Sauveur: You don't say! And what happened?

Alce: He fought Sunday with kòmè Sese's boy, and the rural police officer arrested them both.

Sauveur: Well, my friend, country people never lack troubles really. The word has not spread because I have not heard that at all.

Alce: They sent them immediately to the city. I went also so that I could take food for him in jail.

Sauveur: But, didn't I see him this morning at Marie's house?

Alce: Right, thank God. I paid for him, then they freed him.

Sauveur: Hill people really don't have a chance. We can't eat every day, yet we must find money to pay for the smallest misdeed.

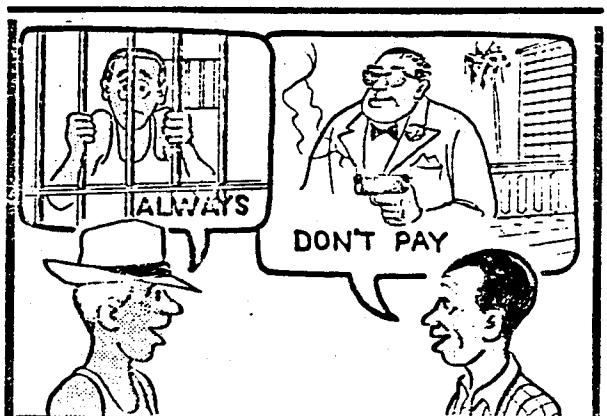

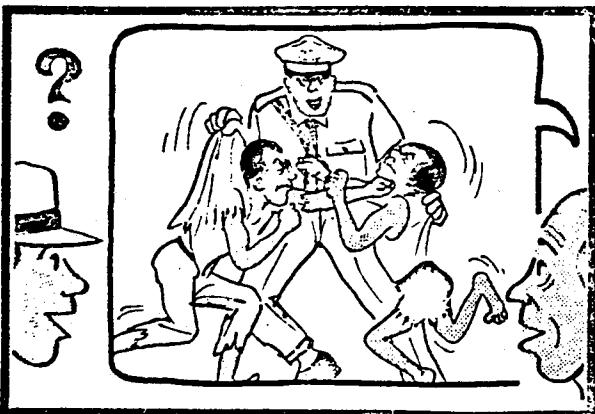

Alce: That's the way it is. And city people who have plenty of money don't have to pay for anything.

Sauveur: Well, my friend, I myself believe that our reward is in God's hands in heaven.

Alce: Maybe so, but I'd rather find it now.

IV. LEKTUVakans

Se pa seùlman nan avyon touris vwayaje. Avyon se pou moun ki prese rive e pou touris ki pa gen anpil vakans. Men gen lòt jan pou vwayaje tou. Si se sou tè ou kab ale nan oto, ou nan otobus ou nan tren. Si se lòt bò dlo ou vle ale, ou ka pran avyon tou, si ou prese, ou byen ou ka pran bato si ou gen tan e si ou pa moun ki konn malad sou lanmè.

Leù ou vwayaje sou tè, gen plis bagay ou ka wè. Men gen anpil moun ki pito vwayaje sou lanmè paske yo pa bezwen wè anpil bagay, men yo gen tan pou yo fè anpil bagay. Sa ki gen anpil lajan yo menm, yo gen bato yo pou yo, e yo kab ale kote yo vle, leù yo vle. Men, pou kondwi yon bato, li mèt piti, se yon pakèt afè, paske leù ou nan mitan lanmè, se dlo seùlman ou wè tou patou. Alòs, fòk ou bon maren, fòk ou bon navigatè pou ou konn kòman pou ou jwenn kote ou vle ale-a.

Yon lòt bagay ki difisil ankò, se pou ou konnen konbyen tan ou ap pase deyò, pou fè provizyon pou tout moun abò-a. Pase, si ou manke manje, si ou manke dlo sou lanmè, se yon bagay ki grav anpil. Leù bato ou pa trò chaje, epi leù ou gen bon manje ak dlo, ou gen bon maren kòm kamarad de vwayaj, leù lanmè kalm avèk bon van k-ap soufle, se yon pakèt plezi pou ou ale kote ou vle, e pou ou vizite chak jou yon lòt rad ke ou pa te konnen anvan.

V. GRAMMAR NOTES

A. Reduplication

In Creole, the most frequent way to give emphasis is to reduplicate the element that one wishes to emphasize.

1. Simple Repetition

The simplest type of reduplication is the simple repetition of the emphasized element. The last occurrence of the element is accompanied by considerable stress on its last syllable.

Example:

Yo plede.	They argued.
Yo plede, yo plede, yo plede.	They argued endlessly.
Machi-n nan gro.	The car is big.
Machi-n nan gro, li gro, li gro, li gro .	The car is very big.

2. The Adverb byen (Intensifier)

Often the emphasized element is repeated once with the adverb byen used as an intensifier in the reduplication. It appears before the repetition of the emphasized element. Example:

Yo plede.	They argued.
Yo plede byen plede .	They argued a lot.
Machi-n nan gro.	The car is big.
Machi-n nan gro byen gro.	The car is really big.

3. Ala (Intensifier)

The emphasized element is sometimes shifted to the beginning of the sentence and is there preceded by the exclamation ala as an intensifier. Example:

Yo plede.	They argued.
Ala plede yo plede !	They argued endlessly!
Machi-n nan gro.	The car is big.
Ala gro machi-n nan gro !	What a big car.

4. Se (Indicator)

Sometimes the reduplicated member which has been shifted forward may be preceded, not by the intensifier ala, but by the verb se as a predicate indicator. Example:

Y-ap plede.	They are arguing.
Se plede y-ap plede.	They are really arguing.

5. Reduplication and Tense Markers

If the predicate to be reduplicated is accompanied by a tense marker, this particle never appears in front of the emphasized element preceded by either byen, ala or se. Example:

Yo te manje byen manje!	They ate a lot.
Ala bon li ta bon!	It would be good.
Se plede yo t-ap plede.	They were arguing.

B. The adverb mèt 'even if'

As with an auxiliary, mèt (adv.) comes between the subject and the verb or, in any case, right in front of the verb in long constructions.

Yo mèt vle-l m pa ka ba yo-l.	Even if they want it, I can't give it to them.
Papa ti gason an ta mèt di sa, m pa kwè se vrè.	Even if the boy's father had said so, I don't believe it's true.

Contrast with the modal auxiliary mèt meaning 'may', 'can', 'to be allowed' (see Grammar Notes, Lesson 19, F):

Ou mèt vini. Ou mèt vini m-ap sòti.	You may come. Even if you come I'm going out.
--	---

C. The Negatives anyen, pèsonn

1. The negative in Creole is pa 'not' (Grammar Notes, L. 4, A). The negative pronouns anyen 'nothing', 'not anything', and pèsonn 'no one', 'nobody' are doubled by pa. Contrast this with the ungrammatical double negative construction in English.

M pa wè anyen.

I see nothing./I don't see anything.

(lit., I don't see nothing.)

M pa wè pèsonn.

I see no one./I don't see anybody.

(lit., I do not see nobody.)

2. When anyen and pèsonn are pronoun subjects, they precede pa.

Anyen p-ap rive nou.

Nothing will happen to you/us.

(lit., Nothing will not happen to you.)

Pèsonn pa vini.

Nobody came. (lit., Nobody didn't come.)

3. However, anyen and pèsonn can be used alone without pa, but only to answer questions.

Ki sa ou ta manje?

What would you eat?

Anyen.

Nothing.

Ki moun ou te wè?

Whom did you see?

Pèsonn.

No one.

IV. LEKTU

Karyè militè

Nan tout peyi gen moun ki antre nan lame paske yo renmen sa, ou byen yo santi yo gen bon dispozisyon pou sa. Se sa yo rele vokasyon. Gen anpil lòt moun menm ki anrole nan yon branch ou byen nan yon lòt paske yo pa ka jwenn yon lòt djòb pou yo fè. An Ayiti, kòm tou patou, se menm bagay; ou jwenn militè ki gen vokasyon an, tankou ou ka jwenn tou ki antre ladan-n poutèt ke se yon kòb ki su, e poutèt otorite yo genyen sou sivil.

Genyen twa branch nan lame d-Ayiti: se Infantri, Avyasyon ak Mari-n. Se Infantri ki gen plis moun, kòm nan tout lòt peyi, paske li kouvri tout peyi-a. Avyasyon ak Mari-n menm, yo gen mwens moun, paske se Pòtoprens, nan kapital la seùlman yo ye. Anpil nèg p-ap antre nan avyasyon, paske yo pè monte anlè pou yo pa tonbe; dòt menm p-ap anrole nan mari-n paske yo pè dlo.

Mari-n nan, an Ayiti, se pa sa yo rele "Meri-n" O Zetazini, men se sa ameriken rele "Nevi". An Ayiti, yo rele li Gad Kòt paske se sèl travay li la pou fè, sa vle di ke se li ki la pou suveye kòt peyi-a. Avyasyon an Ayiti fè sèvis komèsyal tou. Li gen yon sèvis vwayaj avèk vil provens ki lwen kapital la, sa vle di plis ke san kilomèt. O Zetazini sa ta fè swasant "mayl." Se yon bon bagay, pase gen de kote rout yo pa bon menm, e si lapli tonbe, ou kab pa ka konnen ki leù ou a rive. Menm avyasyon militè-a fè sèvis lapòs tou. Avyasyon an se yon sèvis ki mache byen an Ayiti. L-ap mache depi trant an, avèk avyon ki gen menm laj la. Se yon seùl fwa te gen yon aksidan depi leù sa-a. Pa gen yon seùl lòt peyi, ki bat rekò sa-a.

V. GRAMMAR NOTES

A. Comparative Degree: mwen/mwens and pi/plis

1. Refer to Grammar Notes on pi/plis, L. 19, C.
 2. Mwen 'less' and pi 'more' are used to express the comparative degree of adjectives of quality. Examples:

Oto sa-a mwen bël.

Ti gason an pi fò pase ti fi-a.

This car is less beautiful.

The boy is stronger than the girl.

3. Mwens 'less' and plis 'more' are used to express the comparative degree of quantity. Examples:

Mwen gen mwens lajan pase ou.

Nou gen plis liv pase yo.

I have less money than you

We have more books than they.

Note: Pase may be replaced by ke in most cases of the comparative.

Examples:

Anita pi bèl ke Sese.
or Anita pi hèl pase Sese

Anita is more beautiful than Sese.

4. Most Creole speakers prefer pi/plis plus adjective to mwen/mwens plus the appropriate antonym.

They will say, for example: Pye bwa-a pi ro ke kay la rather than Kav la mwen ro ke nye bwa-a

They will say Anita pi bèl ke Sese . or Sese pi lèd pase Anita.
rather than: Sese mwen bèl ke Anita

B. Ka, kab, kapab

Ka, kab, or kapab 'may', 'can', 'be able to' may be used interchangeably. Study the following examples:

Mwen kab pa ka vini.
Mwen ka pa kab vini.
Mwen ka pa kapab vini.

I may be unable to come.

Avyon an kab pa ka ateri.

The plane may be unable to land.
or: The plane may not be able to land.

C. The Negative janm/jamnen 'never'

Like anyen and pèsonn (Grammar Notes, L. 22, G), janm is always doubled by pa in Creole, except in a one-word reply. In this case, janm becomes jamnen.

Ou pa janm manje chwal?
-Jamnen!

You never ate horse?
-Never

Note, however, that pa and janm (unlike anyen and pèsonn) may not be separated by the verb or by any other construction. They stay together in this order as if they were a one-word adverb.

Compare:

M pa wè anyen .	I don't see anything .
M pa wè pèsonn .	I don't see anybody .
M pa janm wè sa.	I never saw that.

D. Fè + noun + tou

The verb fè has been introduced previously as "to make, to do". Often when the pattern fè + noun + tou occurs, fè is translated as "to include".

Avyasyon an Ayiti fè sèvis komèsyal tou.
Aviation in Haiti includes commercial service.

IV. LEKTU

'Kat je kontre, manti kaba'

Vwala se te yon pòv ke tout moun O Kap te konnen. Men se sa nou rele pòv rebèl, paske li pa janm aksepte ni de kòb, ni sink kòb. Li pa sèvi ak ti monnen kon sa. Pi piti kòb pou ou mete nan kwi li se ven kòb.

Jou li sòti pou al mande charite se lundi, madi, mèkredi, jedi ak vandredi. Pèsonn pa janm rankontre li ni le samdi, ni le dimanch. Tout moun toujou konnen ke se yon pòv rebèl, donk yo pa janm chèche konnen pou ki sa.

Li te genyen yon bòs nàn do. Bòs la te fè li vini kout, kout. Li te mache krochu, li te pale nan nen, epi li te pote yon lunèt nwa. Pèsonn pa te janm kapab wè je li.

Vwala se te yon jou dimanch, te genyen premiè komunyon. Se te fêt tou patou, epi ti-moun te nan tout premiè komunyon yo. Gen yon ti-moun ki wè yon msye ki sanble nèg la nan yon premiè komunyon. Men moun nan te si byen abiye ke li peù mande li si se li ki pòv la. L-ale lakay li, li di papa-l sa. Papa-a menm voye ti bway la o diab. Men, de jou pi ta, ti bway la ak de lezòt ti kanmarad rankontre menm pòv la. Yo ranje pou yo ale wè si se yon pòv vre e si li bosu tou.

Sa yo fè, yo ranje pou youn manyen bòs la, lòt la pou wete lunèt la, epi denye-a pou rale baton an. Yo proche kote pòv la tankou yon moun yo pral fè charite. Yo touche bòs nèg la, men nèg la pa te genyen oken bòs nan do. Se te yon bann ranyon ki te nan do li. Yo wete lunèt la, msye pa te aveùg. Ti-moun yo pran rele (ou konn ti-moun) 'Nèg la pa bosu, nèg la pa bosu, nèg la pa bosu'.

Leù msye wè li mele, moun kòmanse ap sanble, li fè hap!, li kouri. Yo pa janm wè pòv la ankò nan rejjon an. Se vre sa provèb la di-a: 'Kat je kontre, manti kaba'.

Cultural Note

Zombie:

A will-less and speechless human in the West Indies capable only of automatic movement, held to have died and been re-animated but often believed to have been drugged into a catalepsy for the hours of interment. -- Webster's Third New International

In Haiti, the zonbi 'zombie' is a victim of malevolence, rendered seemingly dead from a poison extracted from certain plants and prepared with a formula known only to a very few people. The victim's "corpse" is revived with an antidote that restores the physiological life of the body, but not its memory or will-power. It is capable only of blindly obeying a master and thus provides slave labor for him. Occasionally a zombie is cured and returned to normal life, if his state is discovered in time and the effect of the drugs or poison on his brain has not exceeded the tolerable amount of damage.

Pale nan nen

(lit., 'speak in the nose') is the manner of speech thought to be characteristic of zombies. It stems from the custom where the corpse, before being dressed and laid in the coffin, is given a twalèt dè mò. This 'toilet of the dead' requires that the nostrils and ears be plugged up with cotton balls. As a result, the zombie (whose death was only apparent), when brought back to life, speaks like one whose nostrils are closed by thumb and index finger.

V. GRAMMAR NOTES

A. Usage of men and vwala

1. Vwala 'here is', 'here are', 'there is', 'there are' is used only when relating a story.

Vwala yon jou, yon
msye ak yon madamn . . .

There was a time (when) a man and a woman . . .

Vwala yon fwa...

Once upon a time...

2. In all other cases men is used.

Men yon msye ak yon madamn ap vini. Here are a man and a woman coming.
Men yon bon liv. Here is a good book.

B. Pa as Possessive Marker

Pa 'share', 'property', 'own' is often used as a possessive marker. As such, it precedes the personal pronoun or noun. Its use is not mandatory, but it puts a special emphasis on the possessor.

Sa-a se liv mwen.
Sa-a se liv pa mwen.
Sa-a se liv pa-m.

This is my book.
This is my book.
This is my book.

Notice the negative form:

Se pa pa-m.
Se pa pa papa-m.

It's not mine.
It's not my father's.

C. Nenpòt ki, nenpòt

1. Nenpòt ki, nenpòt 'any' is generally followed by the object.

Ban-m nenpòt (ki) liv. Give me any book.

2. But the noun which is modified by nenpòt may be omitted when it's already mentioned in the context.

Ki liv ou vle?
-Ban-m nenpòt. Which book do you want?
-Give me any.

D. Pèsonn...pa janm, pa janm...pèsonn

Pèsonn...pa janm or pa janm...pèsonn are strong negatives used as follows:

Pèsonn pa janm al wè yo. No one ever went to see them.
Pa janm manje nan men pèsonn. Never take food from anyone.

E. Le, tou le

The days of the week or time of day are preceded by le or tou le to show regular and frequent occurrence.

Le dimanch n-al legliz.
Le maten mwen leve boneù.
Tou le dimanch n-al legliz.

We (generally) go to church on Sundays.
In the morning I (generally) get up early.
We go to church every Sunday.

F. Prochen, prochèn, prochinn

Prochen 'next' occurs also in the forms prochèn and prochinn with formal French feminine nouns.

ane prochèn
semèn prochèn prochèn stasion

next year
next week
next gas station or stop

G. An, ane, lane 'year'

The terms are often used interchangeably.

1. An

Usage has established an as the 'measure of age' and it is preferred anytime it's preceded by a cardinal number.

Li gen set an.

He is seven years old.

Kay sa-a gen senkant an.

This house is 50 years old.

It's also used in the following expressions:

par an

per year

jou d-lan

New Year's day

tou le zan

every year

2. Ane, lane

- a. Ane or lane is the period of 12 months. It's used to express a duration of time.

Gen 12 mwa nan yon ane.

There are 12 months in a year.

- b. It's used with nan or dan 'in', pandan 'during', tout 'whole', chak 'every', adjectives and ordinal numbers.

I worked the whole year.

Se premye ane m-ap travay.

It's the first year I've worked.

Lane prochèn m pral an Euròp.

I'm going to Europe next year.

Bòn ane!

Happy New Year'

Ane 1966 la te bon.

Nineteen sixty-six was a good year.

- c. Notice the / in lane which is the persistence of the French article 'l'.

H. Alternate Forms of jou, maten, swa

jou - joune, jounen	day
maten - matine	morning
swa, aswè - sware	evening

1. Jou, maten, swa or aswè are used more often than their synonyms. However, ioune or jounen, matine and sware are used as ane is used to express the whole length of the period of the time mentioned, i.e., the duration of that specific time.

Compare:

- a. Jou-m rive an Kalifoni lapli t-ap tonbe.
The day I arrived in California, it was raining.
 - b. Le swa m-al lekòl.
In the evening I go to school.
 - c. Maten an m sòti boneù.
This morning I went out early.
2. They are also used with nan or dan 'in' and pandan 'during' to express the duration; with tout 'whole' to express the totality; and with adjectives. But with chak 'every' and ordinal or cardinal numbers, maten, swa and jou are preferred.

M pase tout matine-a lakay.
I spent the whole morning at home.

Chak maten m vi-n lekòl.
I come to school every morning.

M-a pase yon jou sèlman.
I'll spend one day only.

MacDonald: How many months does the heat last?

Driver: Let me see. May, June, July, August, September, October. It lasts for six months. Toward November you get big winds, and rain usually starts to fall. As for December, it usually gets quite cool.

MacDonald: Is it cold enough to cause snow to fall on the mountains?

Driver: No, we haven't yet experienced here what is called snow.

MacDonald: Does it rain heavily here, when it rains?

Driver: Mr. MacDonald, when rain begins to fall here, it bears no resemblance to rain. It's a torrent.

MacDonald: Another question, my friend. When it is really hot, how do people in the city manage?

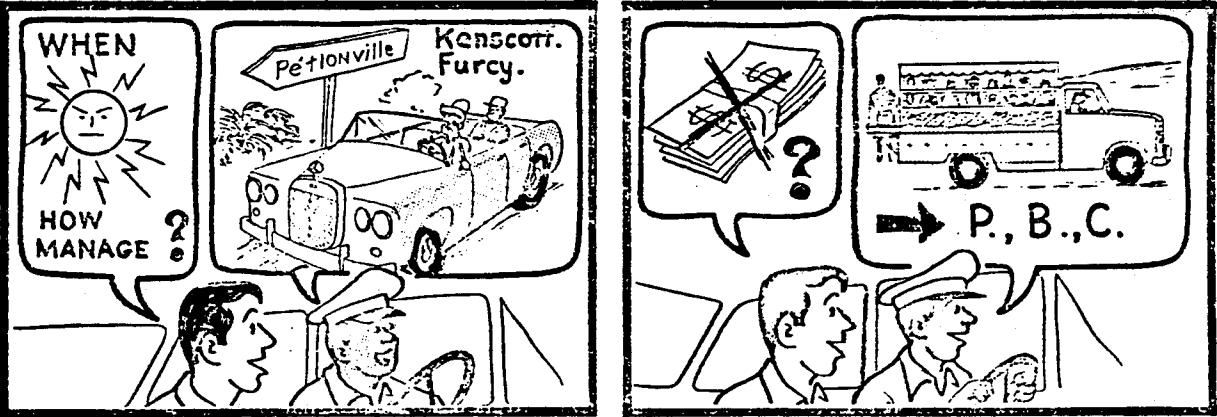

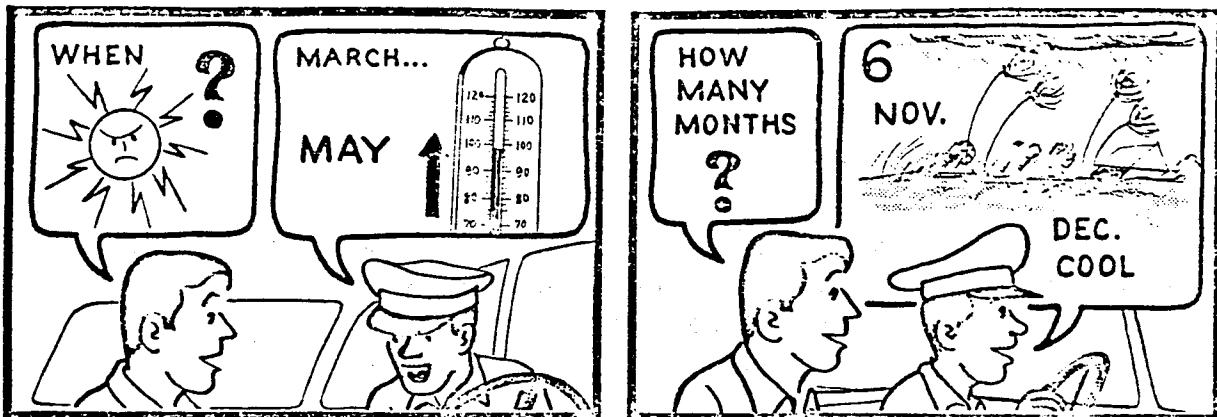

Driver: Wealthy people go up to Petionville, Kenscoff, and Furcy.

MacDonald: And people who don't have money, how do they manage?

Driver: Some among them go to Petionville, Bizoton and Carrefour, places where people do not have a lot of money. Those who have no money at all stay in town.

CULTURAL NOTE

Se pa lapli ki rete ak lapli

The verb rete avèk, which occurs in this expression, means 'to remain with', 'to stay with'. Therefore, the literal translation of Se pa lapli ki rete ak lapli is 'It's no rain that remains with rain'; it is best translated by 'This kind of rain bears no resemblance to rain.'

Rete avèk is generally used in Creole to depict a person who 'remains with' another person in the general sense of being a servant, an inferior. That's what makes the Creole expression Se pa lapli ki rete ak lapli or (displacing the negative) Se lapli ki pa rete ak lapli mean 'This kind of rain is no second/no inferior to any other rain.'

All the foregoing comes from a general custom in Haiti to have children or teenagers from peasant families of the back country (or even from no-income city families) placed as servants with average or high-income people, or with families who can board, clothe, and feed them in return for their free service. Many families have from two to four unpaid young servants in addition to a few paid adult servants, and it isn't unusual for even very low-income families in the much less than "a dollar a day" bracket to have at least one unpaid servant. In fact, there is at least one servant or more in almost every house of every city, town or village in Haiti, and even some peasants have another peasant's child serving them in exchange for free food.

Restavèk (reste avèk/rete avèk) has become a current insult addressed to a person who behaves like an inferior, always taking orders and obeying blindly.

IV. LEKTUBoukan

Tout moun konnen sa yo rele yon boukan. Se yon gro dife bwa abitan yo lumen pou yo ka wè byen leù aswè rive. Yo renmen sanble bò boukan an pou fè manje aswè, anvan y-al dòmi. Nan mòn, kote ki gen fredu, boukan bay chaleù. Donk boukan se yon bagay ki nesesè pou tout moun. Se pou sa gen yon ti jounal an kreyòl an Ayiti yo rele Boukan.

Li gen anpil bagay interesan pou moun ki pa konn pale franse e ki konn li kreyòl. Kon sa, yo aprann anpil bagay ke yo pa-t konnen, tankou istwa peyi yo, ak istwa lòt peyi. Avèk Boukan, sè tout tan moun ap aprann yon lòt bagay pou li viv pi byen.

Nan chak numero Boukan, gen yon bagay yo rele "Konesans se Richès". Sa vle di ke leù yon moun gen konesans, se yon richès li genyen. Se pa moun ki gen lajan, kay, ak bagay kon sa seùlman ki rich non. Pi gro richès ki genyen se konesans, paske ak konesans, ou kapab vi-n genyen tout lòt richès yo. Gen moun ki gen anpil lajan e ki manke konesans. Si tout moun ki gen konesans déjà te bay yon kou d-men pou montre lòt moun li, peyi-a pa ta gen moun sòt dutou. Yo rele atik jounal Boukan yo "Konesans se Richès", poutèt tout bagay yo kab aprann moun ki li yo. Leù yon moun li jounal Boukan, sa ede-l konprann anpil bagay ke li pat konnen. Kon sa, li fè sa li gen pou-l fè pi byen, paske li konnen plus .

Se yon bon bagay si nou kapab li kreyòl. N-a ka li Boukan e n-a oue m pap mant. Se nan Libreri Alfarit, nan Ru du Peùp, biro jounal la ye. Numero kay la se 149.

V. GRAMMAR NOTES

A. Emphatic menm

1. In Creole a noun phrase (including a pronoun) is emphasized by adding menm after it. You have noted that menm occurs also as a modifier preceding noun phrases, e.g.,

menm bêt

even animals

2. When it functions as an emphatic marker, menm cannot be readily equated to any English nearequivalent word but must be translated in terms of the context in which it occurs.

mwen-menm myself; as for myself, in so far as I am concerned

msye se manteù menm
O Zetazini menm

that man is a real liar right in the United States;
as for the United States

B. Modal Auxiliary konn

1. The modal auxiliary konn indicates habitual action or state. Example:

Lapli konn tonbe vè mwa d-me.
Li te konn bay odyans tou le swa.

Rain usually falls toward May.
He used to spin yarns every evening.

2. Like other modal auxiliaries, konn can occur preceded by verbal particles. However, because of its meaning, it usually occurs only with the past particle te.

Li te konn mande charite.
Leù te fè cho, yo te konn monte Fusi.

He used to beg.
When it was hot, they used to go up to Furcy.

3. With other tense marker particles, konn means 'to know'.

Yo ta konn ki sa pou fè.
Li va konn ki leù pou-l pati.

They would know what to do.
He will know when to leave.

C. Definite Determiner as Phrase Modifier

1. The definite noun markers (which have been shown in L.6, 11, and 14) mark not only nouns but also phrases that function as nouns. Compare:

a. kle-a kle machi-n nan	the key the key of the machine
b. biro-a biro telegraf la biro telegraf ou wè-a	the office the cable office the cable office you see
c. oto-a oto li vann mwen an	the car the car which he sold me

2. In the phrases contained in the second member of the paired utterances above, the noun marker does not modify the word which precedes it immediately but the entire noun phrase. Thus in kle machi-n nan the noun marker modifies kle machi-n rather than only machi-n.

3. In the case of noun phrases modified by a relative clause, the noun marker may occur far removed from the central noun of the noun phrase it modifies. In ti gason ki rete the little boy who lives matant mwen an with my aunt an modifies ti gason, which in turn is modified by ki rete ak matant mwen. This sentence is somewhat ambiguous, for the definite noun marker may also modify matant mwen. This possibility is excluded because of semantic considerations: nouns referring to kinship relationships preceded by the possessive marker are seldom followed by the definite noun marker.

In a. and b. above, however, although each noun separately would take a marker, only one marker may be used for both at the end of the noun phrase: its form is determined by the word immediately preceding it.

Compare with c. where an in oto li vann mwen an marks oto rather than mwen, but its form (an instead of a) is fixed by the ending nasal consonant of mwen.

Maurice in the executive office of the 14th Company for him to make his report. Cpl. Jacques goes to report. He arrives at the office of Lt. Maurice.

Lt. M.: Report to me in detail how the reconnaissance patrol went. Orderly Leon, take notes.

Cpl. J.: According to instructions I received, I assembled the soldiers who were designated for the patrol, and I started the march at 1700 exactly.

Lt. M.: How many men in total?

Cpl. J.: The patrol was composed of three men and I made four. I saw that it would take us about one hour until we arrived close to the enemy's position.

Lt. M.: What weapons did you have with you?

Cpl. J.: The sergeant gave us light tommyguns with fifty rounds and four grenades to each man.

Lt. M.: That was all you had?

Cpl. J.: No, lieutenant. We had knives too so that we could have saved ourselves without making noise if we had surprised an enemy patrol.

Lt. M.: Good, that's fine. But what route did you follow?

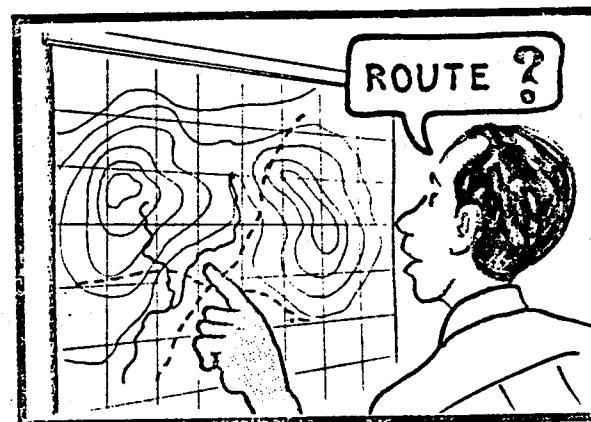

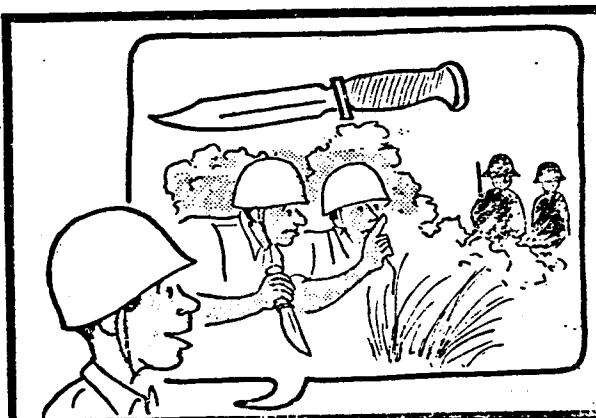

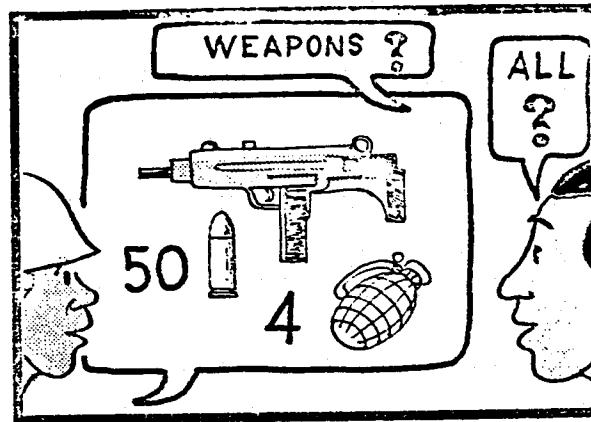

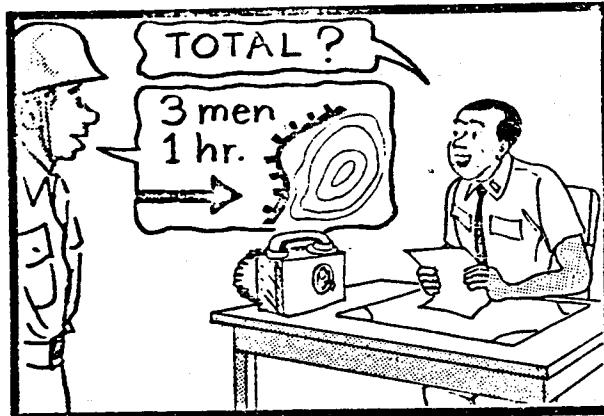

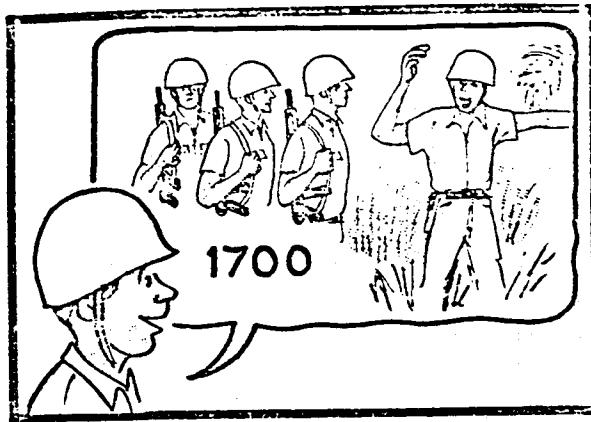

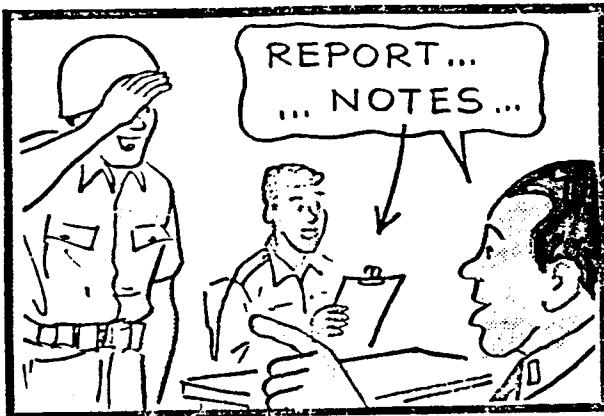

(Sgt. Sauveur enters the office.)

Sgt. S.: Lieutenant, it's Headquarters asking for you on the radio.

IV. LEKTU

Lasante

Yon moun ki pa gen lasante se yon moun malad. Lasante se yon bagay ki enpòtan anpil nan lavi yon moun. Si ou pa gen lasante, ou pa ka travay, paske ou pa gin fòs pou fè anyen. Pa nou pa kite nou malad. N-a gen traka. Se pou nou proteje tèt nou. Nou fèt pou nou pran prekosyon pou nou pa malad.

Men, si nou malad, se pou n-al kay dokteù. Se sa k-a pèmèt li sove lavi nou. Se dokteù ki ede moun, leù yo malad, ak medikaman li ba yo. Se li ki ede yo proteje sante yo.

Maladi se pi move bagay ki gen sou latè. Se yon sous mizè pou lèzom sou tè-a. Si nou pran anpil prekosyon, n-a sove twa ka nan vi nou. Li pi fasil pou nou pran prekosyon anvan pase apre. Gen yon provèb ki di: "Maladi vi-n sou chwal, men l-ale a pye." Sa vle di ke maladi antre rapid, men li pran anpil jou pou li kite malad la. Alèkile kòm gen avyon, se pou nou di: "Maladi vi-n an avyon, men l-ale a pye." Pi bon leù pou yon moun okupe tèt li, se leù li pa malad, leù li an sante. Pa tann maladi-a fi-n rive pou ou kòmanse pran prekosyon.

Dokteù yo toujou ape di: "Yon santim prekosyon pi bon pase mil dola medikaman." Se sa-k fè gran moun toujou di se pou ou manje e domi byen. Gen moun ki di ke si ou bwè yon kokoye antye chak maten, sa ede ou rete an bòn sante.

Mezanmi, se pa manti m-ap bay. Tou sa m di la-a se laverite. N-a viv lontan, n-a viv jistan nou vye si nou koute konsèy mwen. Pa kite tro ta bare nou. Si nou pa koute mwen, leù n-a wè klè, l-a tro ta.

V. GRAMMAR AND CULTURAL NOTES

A. Fractions. In Creole, major fractions are expressed as follows:

$\frac{1}{4}$ = yon ka (one fourth)

$\frac{1}{2}$ = demi (before a noun), e dmi (after a noun)

$\frac{3}{4}$ = twa ka (three fourths)

In certain regions people say twa ka pyas ($\frac{3}{4}$ piastre) for 75 kòb (\$.15), and yon ka pyas for 25 kòb (\$.05). But they never say demi pyas for 50 kòb (\$.10). Pyas is another word for goud.

In some other regions the word for 25 kòb ($.05) is goudin, and people would say yon goudin, de goudin, twa goudin for yon ka pyas, senkant kòb and twa ka pyas respectively.

B. French Definite Articles. Some of these are still in use, without having displaced the Creole article. They may be written separate from the noun but are usually joined to it, to form one new word.

vi	la-vi lavi (life)	lavi-a (the life)
mè	lan-mè lanmè (sea),	lanmè-a (the sea)
ekòl	l-ekòl lekòl (school),	lekòl la (the school)
zòt	le-zòt lezòt (others),	lezòt yo (the others)

C. Fèt pou and dwe. Both express obligation and are often used interchangeably. Fèt pou (lit. 'made for' or 'born for') should be used only when the obligation is a natural one and not simply conventional.

Ti-moun dwe koute konsèy gran moun.

Ti moun fèt pou koute konsèy gran moun.

(Children must listen to the advice of adults.)

D. Sèvi (ak)

Sèvi means 'to serve', 'to use'. Sometimes it is followed by ak. In that case it means only 'to use'.

Anaiz sèvi Makdonal. Anaise serves MacDonald.

M sèvi mato-a. I use the hammer.
(or) M sèvi ak mato-a. I use the hammer.

E. Bay s.o. + v.

The verb has been introduced with the meaning 'to give'. When used as an auxiliary verb with an indirect object between it and the main verb, it has the meaning 'to have'.

M ba ou sigarèt I give you some cigarettes.
M ba ou achte sigarèt. I have you buy some cigarettes.

V. GRAMMAR NOTES

Piga, pi-nга, 'don't, 'be careful', 'watch out'

- A. Like fō/fōk, annou/an-n, apa, etc., the verb piga/pi-nга dominates another clause.
It is used to admonish, to warn someone.

Piga is by itself a negative verb to express forbiddance and interdiction.

Piga (ou) tue dife-a.

Don't (you) extinguish the fire.

When followed by the pronoun plus the negative particle pa, piga becomes a strong positive compulsion or recommendation that something should be done.

Piga ou pa vini.

You better come. Be sure to come.

- B. With or without the addition of negative pa, piga/pi-nга, also sometimes simply expresses an apprehension or the fear that something does or doesn't happen, depending on the intonation.

Piga li fē yon aksidan, non.

I hope he doesn't have an accident.

or

May God prevent that he has an accident.

Piga yo pa rive a tan, non.

I hope they arrive in time.

or

God help they arrive in time.

IV. LEKTU

Manje an Ayiti

Gen anpil bagay yo manje lan peyi tropikal ke anpil ameriken pa konnen. Par ekzanp, bannann se youn ladan yo. Leù ou jwenn bannann pou achte O Zetazini, se nan lòt peyi li sòti, e se moun ki konnen ni seùlman ki va achte li. Ou ka jwenn bannann de jan, vèt ou mi. Pou bannann nan vi-n mi, se pou yo kite-l rete lontan sou pye-a, ou byen se pou yo toufe-l, si li pa-t gen tan mi sou pye. Yo toufe bannann menm jan yo toufe nenpòt ki fwi ki pa mi, sètadi se pou yo mete-l yon kote ki cho, ki byen fémén pou lè pa antre, epi pou yo kouvri li. Men si pou yon bannann vi-n byen mi, fo ou te kite li gen tan rèk sou pye anvan ou koupe-l. Si li pa te rèk sou pye, bannann nan ka pito pouri pase li vi-n mi.

Bannann sanble ak fig-bannann anpil, men se pa menm bagay. Fig-bannann pa bezwen kwit pou manje-l. Men, fò ou kwit bannann nan. Gen anpil jan pou kwit bannann. Ou ka bouyi yo, ou ka fri yo, vèt ou mi. Bannann ak roma se bon bagay.

Gen yon lòt fwi yo rele lam veritab. Se pou li kwit tou pou manje-l. Ou ka manje-l ak vyann beùf, pwason ou byen poul. Pye lam veritab se yon grò pye bwa. Gen lòt bagay ankò yo konn manje ak vyann, men se pa fwi tankou bannann ak lam. Se nan tè-a menm yo soti tankou yanm, manyòk, patat, epi malanga. Men se viv yo rele tout an Ayiti, ni sa yo pran sou branch yo, ni sa yo pran nan tè-a. Ayisyen manje yo anpil. Se sa ki fè yo viv. Leù ti-moun ki pral lekòl gen anpil lesон, se pou yo manje anpil viv k-a ba yo fòs pou etudyé rèd.

An Ayiti, yon repa ki pa gen viv a duri ak pwa, se pa yon manje ayisyen. Leù duri-a kwit seùl se duri blan pla-a rele. Li trè bon pou manje avèk sòs pwa ou byen sòs vyann, poul ou pwason. Lè pwa-a pa kwit ak duri-a, yo rele li pwa sòs ou pwa an sòs. Souvan yo konn kwit duri-a kole ak pwa-a. Sa vle di ke yo mele ansanm, yo kwit ansanm. Nenpòt ki pwa kab kwit kole ak duri: pwa rouj, pwa kongo, pwa nwa ak anpil lòt kalite pwa. Men se duri kole ak pwa rouj ki veritab pla nasyonal ayisyen.

V. GRAMMAR NOTES

A. Complex Sentences

1. We have presented three ways of embedding one sentence into another in Creole (see Grammar Notes, L.17); with the relatives ki or ke, or by simple juxtaposition.

Another way to introduce subordinate clauses is with the conjunction pou. It connects the subordinate sentence expressing the purpose of the main sentence.

Ki kote m ka jwenn yon restoran?

Where can I find a restaurant?

M-a manje nan restoran an.

I'll eat in the restaurant.

Ki kote m ka jwenn yon restoran
pou-m manje?

Where can I find a restaurant
(for me) to eat?

M pa gen tan.

I have no time.

M pa fè travay la.

I didn't do the work.

M pa gen tan pou-m fè travay la.

I don't have time to do the work.

2. Another type of juxtaposition is when the embedded sentence modifies the main clause direct object sa.

M konn sa.

I know that.

Yo vle sa.

They want that

M konn sa yo vle.

I know what (that which) they want.

Note that in Creole, sa is equivalent to English 'what' and 'that which'.

B. Comparative

1. We have seen also that the comparative degree of adjectives is expressed in Creole by the adverbs pi (more) and mwen (less)- See Grammar Notes L.17, 19, and 23.

The comparative degree may also be used with adverbs and with adverbial complements:

Ou kouri mwen vit pase mwen.
Se pou nou rive pi vit.
Li pi byen pase ou.
Kite-m mache pi devan.

You run less fast than I.
We must arrive faster.
He's (she's) better than you.
Let me walk farther ahead.

Notice that when pi or mwen modifies an adverb or an adverbial complement, the adverbs that indicate the degree of comparison take the same place as the adjective in the regular pattern:

Subject + pi + adjective/adverb + pase + Object

Li pi bon pase ou.
Li pi byen pase ou.

He's better than you.
He's better than you.

C. De 'some'

1. De is the survival in Creole of the French plural indefinite article "des" 'some'. Most of the time, however, its use is optional; in Creole, as in English, it may often be omitted.

Gen (de) moun ki
renmen lapli.
Yo pa toujou jwenn(de) misyonè
tankou ou.

There are (some) people who like rain./Some people like rain.
They have not always had missionaries like you.

2. With leù, lè and fwa (meaning 'times'), de is not omitted.

Gen de leù/lè pa gen
moun nan kay la.
Gen de fwa li rive pi boneù.

There are times when there is no person in the house.
There are times when he arrives earlier.

3. In front of a vowel de becomes dez/dèz for a linking purpose.

Gen dez òm (dezòm/ dez-òm) ki pa renmen travay.

There are men who don't like to work.

Sezon lapli

A. Lektu

Gen de peyi lapli pa janm tonbe, epi gen de peyi li tonbe trop. Gen dòt peyi menm ki gen yon sezon sechrès ki long anpil, epi yon sezon lapli ki sanble li pap janm fini. Se kon sa peyi tropikal ye, kòm par ekzanp Ayiti avèk lezòt zanti yo. Peyi sa yo nan zòn siklòn ki fòme o sid, nan Mè dè Karayib. Leù siklòn sa yo kòmanse monte, tout moun peù, paske pèsonn panko konnen ki rout yo va swiv ni ki kote y-ap pase. Yon ane yo pase yon kote, yon lòt ane yo pase nan yon lòt rejyon, men gen de rejyon yo renmen pase souvan. Tout kote yo pase se pakèt ravaj yo fè. Lavalas tonbe, loraj gronde, dlo desann, larivyè debòde, kay kraze, pye bwa rache, tren chavire, moun mouri anpil.

Yo kab fè anpil dega menm leù sant yo pase byen lwen. Lè ou nan keù bagay la menm se pi rèd. Chak ane yo retounen, chak ane yo rekòmanse ba yo non. Non premye-a kòmanse avèk A, non dezyèm nan avèk B, non twazyèm nan avèk C, epi se kon sa pou lòt yo. Men, tout non yo se non fanm, se paske leù fanm ap fè ravaj, se pa blag; yo frape fò e yo pa kite ou konnen ni ki leù, ni ki bò, ni pou ki sa. E mwen byen kwè ke se yon fanm ki di sa.

Repa an Ayiti

Chak moun manje selon bezwen yo, ou selon sante yo. Se poutèt sa ke tout moun pa manje menm jan. Men gen yon lòt bagay tou. Chak moun manje selon mwayen yo, sa vle di selon mizi kòb yo. Se sa ki fè ke moun pòv pa kab manje tankou moun ki gen lajan. An jeneral, nan tout peyi, yo manje twa fwa pa jou, maten, an midi ak aswè. Chak manje se yon repa, e chak repa gen yon non. An Ayiti, yo rele sa maten an dejene, sa an midi-a rele dine, sa aswè-a rele soupe. Se sa ki sanble nòmal, men se pa kon sa sa ye tou patou, paske gen anpil lòt kote yo pran dejene a midi, e dine aswè. Alò yo pa gen leù pou yo soupe. Men, kòm nan pwen mwayen rete grangou jiska midi, moun sa yo blije fè yon ti manje le maten, e yo rele li ti dejene.

O Zetazini se non yo ki chanje. Ti dejene-a yo rele li "brekfas" (breakfast), manje a midi-a yo rele li "lunnch" (lunch) e manje aswè-a yo rele li "dineù" (dinner). Donk gen lè se nan kabann yo pran "seùpeù" (supper). Anpil kote ki pran twa ou kat repa pa jou gen yon sèl repa ki enpòtan. An jeneral se dine yo pran aswè-a. Men, an Ayiti, sòf moun ki pa kapab vre, manje twa fwa pa jou-a se manje yo rele manje. Ni dejene, ni dine, ni soupe, se chita a tab lakay pou manje solid avèk kwiyè, fouchèt ak kouto. Gen de moun menm ki bwè duven tou le jou, a chak repa.
