THOSE WHO ASK RECEIVE

Anaise meets Marie, who's going to church. They stop for a little chat.

Anaise: Good morning, Marie. How are you today?

Marie: Thank God, not bad, but not so good either.

Anaise: The way I see you dressed so well, and you even smell good, I would say you are well indeed.

Marie: Well, I'm going to church to kneel at the feet of God to ask him to perform a miracle for me.

Anaise: Oh, oh! I thought that your shop was doing very well.

Marie: Well, you see, that's why they say, "Only a knife knows what is happening inside a yucca's heart."

Anaise: That's true. We're all struggling with life.

Marie: My man is about to go insane. He lost the month's money in a crooked gambling game last Saturday. He is unable to pay for the merchandise for the shop, and the merchants have stopped his credit.

Anaise: Mary, dear, not even a lot of prayer can get you out of that.

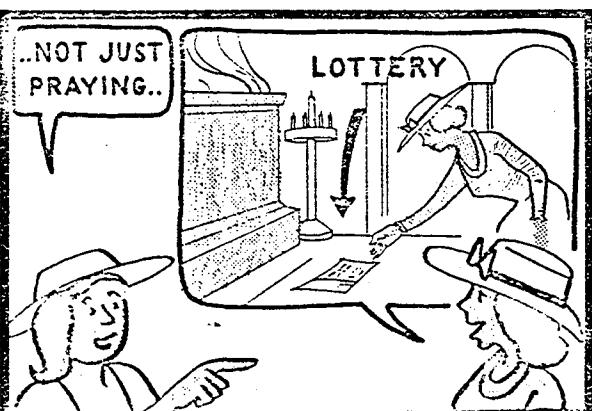

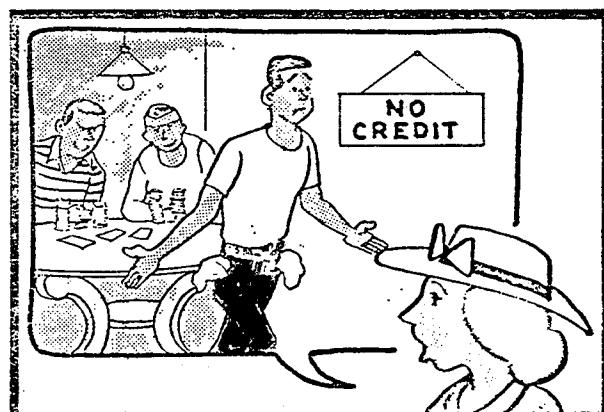

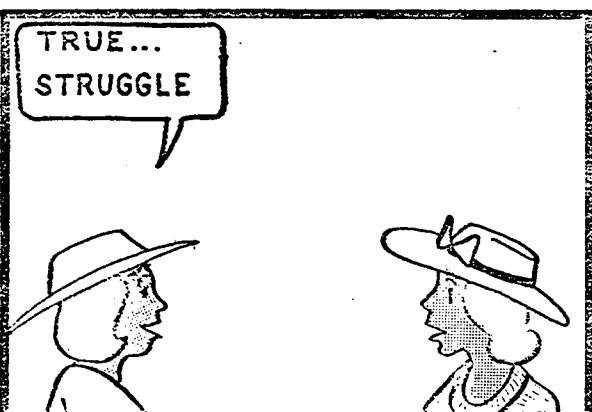

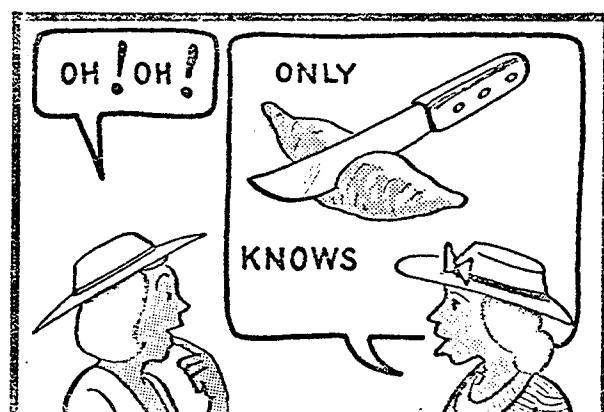

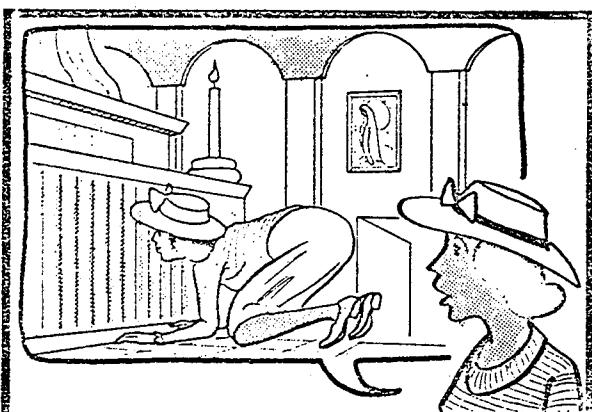

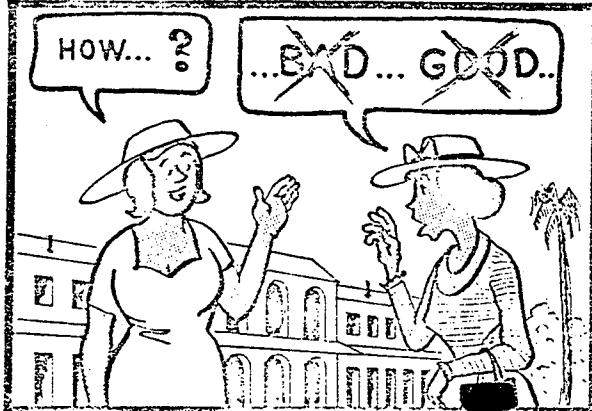

Marie: That's why I've just bought a lottery ticket. I'm going to pray at the feet of the Virgin and ask God to make my ticket win.

Anaise: Well, 'makòmè', you really are after a miracle.

Marie: My dear, "A baby who doesn't cry doesn't need to be breast-fed." I'll scream "Help" until God hears me. Listen, I'm leaving.

IV. LEKTU

Yon mirak

Jodi-a m prale rakonte nou istwa yon komèsan siryen Pòtoprens ki te yon gran jwè. Yon fwa, msye ale nan jwèt pokè epi li fè twa jou ap jwe. Aprè twa jou-a, li pèdu di mil dola. Donk, lè msye sòti, msye tankou yon moun fou. Li pa konnen sa pou li fè pou rantre di mil dola-a. A lafen, li deside ale legliz nan pòtay Sen Jozèf la pou lapryè nan pye Sen Jozèf.

Lè li rive, msye mete a jenou. Li di: "Sen Josèf, papa, m konnen ou toujou bon pou mwen. Ou konn sitiyasyion-m. Ou konnen di mil dola m pèdu-a se pa pou mwen li yè. Lajan sa-a se nan magazen an m pran ni. Epi, m pèdu li. Alò sen Djo, m pral rete la, nan pye ou. M pral mande ou pou wè Pè Letènèl pou mwen, pou mande-l pou-l fè yon mirak pou-m rantre lajan an. E m p-ap kite legliz la tout tan ou pa ban-m yon sign ke ou pral fè yon ti batay pou mwen ak Pè Letènèl."

Msye mete-l a jenou, spi li plede lapryè. Li rete pandan lontan ap lapryè. Etan l-ap lapryè-a, gen yon pè de fami brizurye ki vi-n mete a jenou tou kote msye. Gran moun nan tou ap fè Sen Jozèf yon ti demand. Li di: "Sen Djo, papa-m, ou konnen depi konben tan m pap travay. M gen sèt pitit. Ni mwen-menm, ni pitit mwen yo, ni madanm mwen, nou gen twa jou depi nou pa manje. Alò sen Djo, m p-ap kite pye ou jodi-a, tout tan ou pa fè yon mirak pou ban-m yon bagay pou-m pòte bay ti-moun yo." Sitiyasyion an tèlman rèd pou nèg la li kanpe vap! Li prye, l-prye, l-prye.

Siryen an menm depi gran moun nan antre-a, ap suiv sa l-ap fè ak sa l-ap di. Li santi gran moun nan tèlman ap lapryè rèd, ke li ka antrave konvèrsasyon l-ap fè avèk Sen Jozèf la. Msye fè sa, li foure men nan pòch li. Li te gen yon sèl biye di do, la ki te rete. Li pran biye-a, epi li bay tonton an ni. Epi li di-l: "Tonton, gade non monchè, pran lajan sa-a. Men, se pou ou sòti tousuit, paske ou ap kontrarye-m avèk Sen Jozèf la-a. Se yon biznis di mil dola m-ap chèche mare ak li."

(Lit.: It's not a few fish the guy caught.)

Se pa ti kras mango medam yo manje.

The women ate a lot of mangoes.

Se pa ti kras moun ki gen nan laru Pòtoprens.

There are a lot of people in the streets of Port-au-Prince.

C. In the Se pa ti kras construction, the tense marker, if any, is always in the second part of the sentence, never after Se pa ti kras.

Se pa ti kras malad m ta malad.

I would be very sick.

Se pa ti kras pale yo t-ap pale.

They were speaking a lot.

Se pa ti kras moun nou te wè nan laru-a.

We saw a lot of people in

V. GRAMMAR AND CULTURAL NOTES

A. Comparison: tankou 'as'

1. In Creole the comparison of equality is expressed by the use of the word tankou:

Li brav tankou chat.	He's as brave as a cat.
Ou genyen solèy tankou isit?	Do you have as much sun as here?

This contrasts with the comparisons of inequality where the two-term sequence pi...pase is used (see Grammar Notes L. 17,B;and L. 19,C).

Li pi brav pase ou.	He's braver than you (are).
Yo pi rich pase nou.	They're richer than we (are).

2. Tankou is also used as the equivalent of English 'as' or 'like':

Li reponn tankou yon moun ki ap plenyen.	He answered just like a person who is suffering.
Li mache tankou yon moun ki avèg.	He walks like a man who is blind.

B. Expressing Necessity or Obligation: fò Construction

There are two ways of expressing necessity or obligation in Creole: (1) the use of pou or se pou (Grammar Notes, Lesson 21); (2) the use of the fò construction.

Se pou ou ale./ Fò ou ale.	You have to go.
Fò chofè-a vini aswè-a.	The driver has to come tonight.
Fò li vini aswè-a./ Se pou li vini aswè-a.	He has to come tonight.
Fòk nou fè tèt nou./ Se pou nou fè tèt nou.	You must get a haircut.

Note: Fò may be replaced by fòk by some speakers, and is interchangeable with se pou, as in the examples above.

C. Retail Unit Measures

In Haiti, very few of the unit measures used by retailers and peddlers have anything to do with either the metric or the avoirdupois (pounds, ounces) systems. In the market, big fruits and vegetables of various sizes (such as watermelons) are sold by the piece: usually most people don't want or are unable to buy more than one such large item at a time anyway. Neither does the merchant sell them in groups such as one dozen, since the buyer would then want to select 12 of the biggest. However, items of relatively constant size (e.g., coconuts, oranges, eggs) can be priced by the dozen or by a fraction of a dozen.

The following list covers most of the unit measures used for retail items.

1. Pil or lo (pile/stack/heap) is used for items retailed on the ground in the market or on sidewalks (small vegetables or fruits of various sizes, firewood for cooking, etc.). The piles vary in size and importance: there are pil 5 kòb (one pile for 5 kòb), pil 10 kòb, pil 25 kòb, etc. But the maximum unit price for yon pil (one pile) would be 50 kòb. Not all 5-, 10-, or 25-kòb piles are of equal size. Therefore a buyer will first go to many sellers, squat to appreciate, and even count the units in the piles before he decides from whom he will buy. And as the day goes by, a retailer will dispose of a few piles by adding one or two units to each of the other unsold piles in order to try to sell everything. On higher priced items sold by fixed unit measure (such as pint or other container), the price itself will come down in the afternoon.

Items sold by pil or lo include potatoes, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, mangoes, avocados, eggplants and onions plus other small fruits and vegetables not named in the English language.

Eggs are sold in the market by pil or lo also. In this case, a pil or lo is the equivalent of three eggs.

Yon pil ze.

4 pil ze.

Three eggs.

One dozen eqgs.

(4 x 3 = 12)

2. Grap (cluster/bunch) is how small fruits attached by their stems to a limb are sold (such as grapes, kenèp, etc.).
3. Pake (bunch) is used for vegetables with tops tied together, such as carrots, beets and turnips.

4. Makòn is a cluster of separate units tied together by their stems on to a stick, such as onions, garlic and shallots; or by their husks, such as corncobs.
5. Gro mamil (large can) is a more or less constant measure which comes from using an empty five lb. can for shortening or butter.

Ti mamil (small can) indicates the use of an empty one lb. can. Gro mamil and ti mamil measures are used for selling or buying various beans and peas, rice, corn flour, corn grits, corn (in grain), rock salt, millet, etc.

6. Glòs is a small bottle with a capacity of four fluid oz. It derives its name from the brand name "GLOSS" of a black liquid product for dyeing or redyeing shoes and other leather articles. Glòs measure is used for cooking oil, castor oil, molasses syrup, kerosene, etc.
7. Lit (liter) is a bottle with a one-liter capacity and is used for selling the same liquids as above in (6).
8. Liv (lb.) is roughly equivalent to one American pound. However, because there is no control of weights and measures, what the customer gets for yon liv at any retail store is much less than one lb.

Many small retail store owners will purchase one lb. of sugar (or flour or whatever) for 25 kòb and retail it in six small paper cones called kònèt, at 5 kòb each. Also, they may take one small paper cone of the product out of one lb. (if it were a lb.) and then reseal the paper bag called sachè, selling it as one lb. The practice is well known and accepted when the need is immediate, but many customers would rather walk the distance of ten blocks or more in order to save a penny. It must be kept in mind that the daily sales of many a retail store in the remote areas of town and in most country villages and hamlets may often not exceed 1, 2, or 3 dollars. The profit is immediately consumed to feed the store owner and his family, sometimes ahead of the sale.

9. Lòn, lonn, òn (ell) is an English unit of length used for selling fabric. It's the equivalent of 45 inches. Here again, even the Lebanese importers--owners of big retail stores operating an inventory of hundreds of thousands of dollars--will cut an inch or so off the regular lòn. And then the peddler will in turn use a 42-inch lòn to retail at the Lebanese merchant's selling price.

The different writings of this word are influenced by French. All French nouns beginneng with a vowel or a mute 'h' remaining in Creole (such as 'heure', è (hour); 'homme', om (man); 'aune', òn (ell) have kept the French liaisons.

Compare:

une aune	unòn	one ell
l'aune	lòn/lonn	the ell
deux aunes	dezòn	two ells
cinq aunes	senkòn	five ells

Note that unòn or yon lonn can both be used to express one ell.

II. DIALOGUE

Report on a Reconnaissance Patrol (continued)

Corporal Jacques is in the office of Lt. Maurice. He is continuing the report on the reconnaissance patrol.

Lt.: Good. Continue with the report on the reconnaissance patrol. That's why Headquarters just called on the radyo a little while ago.

Cpl.: As soon as we had passed the cemetery which is right behind the village gate, we threw ourselves under the trees in a small ravine beside the mayor's sugarcane field.

Lt.: You didn't stop on your way to speak to anyone?

Cpl.: No, lieutenant, we didn't meet a single person.

Lt.: Good. Go on.

Cpl.: When we reached the end of the ravine, we turned behind the mapou tree which is beside the little spring. Then we dashed into the sugarcane field.

Lt.: How was the sugarcane field?

Cpl.: The cane is pretty tall at this season. That permitted us to go a much longer way without anyone able to see us.

Lt.: I hope you didn't talk loudly so they would have heard you if there was someone in the field.

Cpl.: We didn't say a word. And I didn't allow anyone to smoke either. It was only with signs that I gave orders.

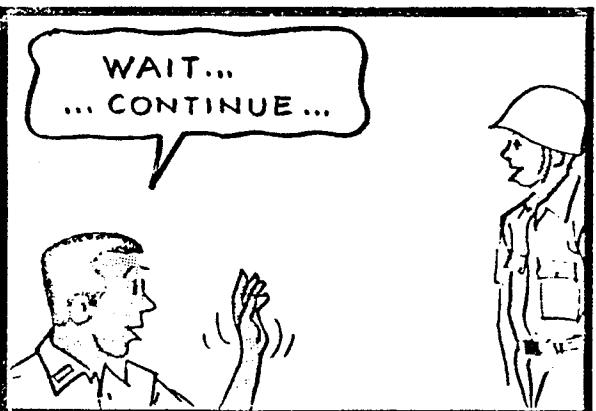

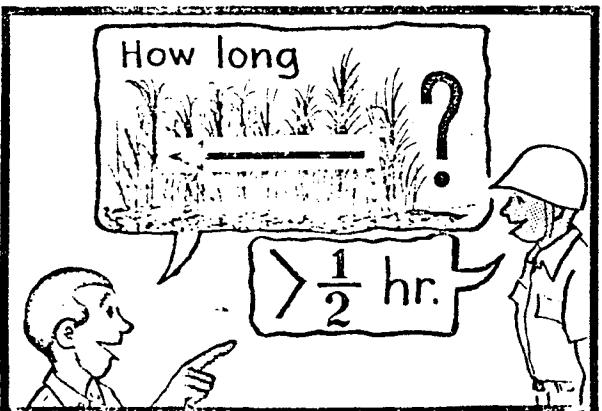

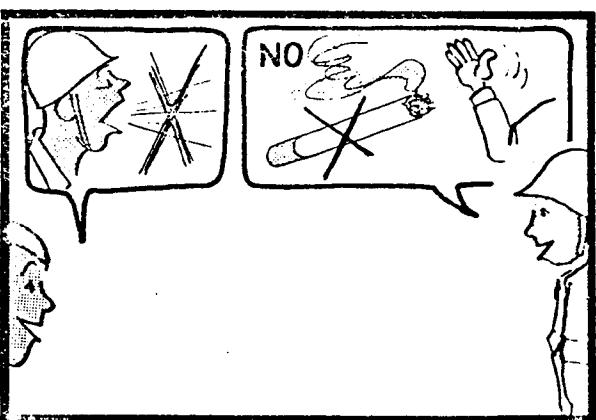

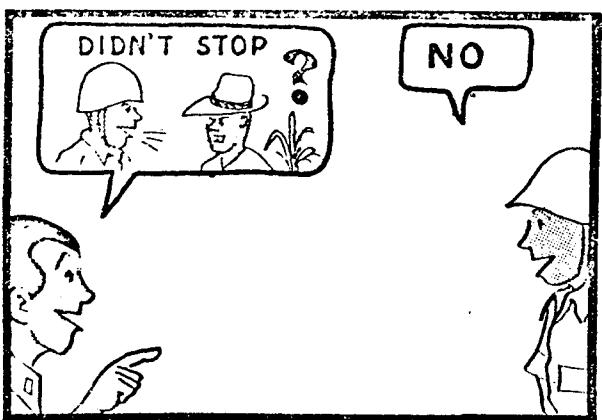

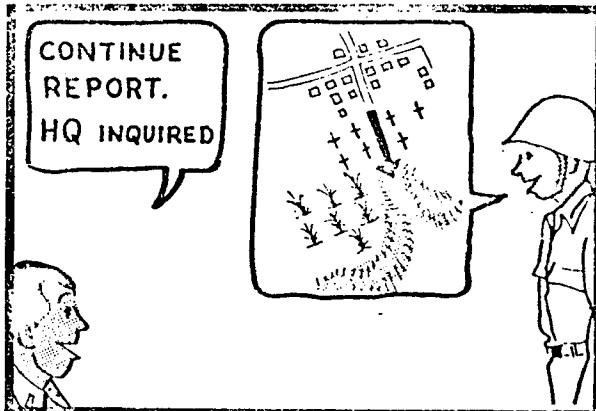

Lt.: About how long did it take you to go through the sugarcane field?

Cpl.: In my opinion, it took us a little more than half an hour.

Lt.: Wait for me a moment. We'll continue in a short while.

Dapre mwen lotòn se yon sezon ki pi agreyab pase lete.
9. The sun was so hot that they were forced to throw themselves in the lake.
Solèy la te si cho ke yo te blije jete kò yo nan lak la.
10. The sky is all gray this afternoon, however, I don't think it's going to rain.
Syèl la tou gri apremidi-a, sepandan m pa kwè lapli pral tonbe.

IV. LEKTU

Sezon

Nan yon ane gen kat sezon. Yo rele prentan, ete, otòn ak ivè. O prentan, latè bèl, syèl la bèl, tout bagay bèl. Pye bwa kouvri ak bèl fèy vèt, e jaden kouvri ak bèl flè tout koulè. Lè-a fre, tanperatu-a agreyab. Se prèske kon sa tou patou. Lete fè pi cho ke lòt sezon yo. Solèy la pike anpil paske li pi pre latè. Men, tout peyi pa fè cho menm jan an. Gen de peyi chalè-a insupòtab, e gen dòt peyi kote chalè-a pa si terib. Men tou patou, fè pi cho ke rès ane-a an ete. Se pandan sezon sa-a ke plus moun pran vakans, ni gran moun ki nan travay, ni ti-moun ki lekòl. Gen lòt moun menm ki vwayaje ale nan lòt peyi ki pa fè si cho, paske lete nan peyi fredu pa cho tankou lete nan peyi cho.

An otòn menm, chalè lete-a pase, e tanperatu-a kòmanse ap bese, paske se livè k-ap vini apre. Syèl la kòmanse vi-n gri, kòmanse fè frèt. Gen de peyi kote tout fèy pye bwa vi-n tout koulè jòn ak rouj, epi y-ap tonbe. Tout tè-a kouvri ak feuy yo ki fe yon bèl tapi k-ap chanjè tout tan, lè van an ap soufle. Sepandan, gen ae peyi kote lotòn fè unpe pi fre ke lete, men pye bwa pa pèdu fèy yo .

Lè livè vini menm, tou patou fè pi frèt ke pandan rès ane-a. Donk livè se sezon fredu; men, sa pa vle di ke tout peyi fè frèt anpil. Gen de kote lanèj tonbe, dlo tounen glas. Menm rivyè ak lak tounen glas. Tè-a, pye bwa, kay, tout bagay tou blan, kouvri ak lanèj. Tout kay chofe, e tout moun blije mete manto pou yo kab sòti deyò. Gen de kote ki pa fè frèt dutou; lanèj pa janm tonbe, dlo pa tounen glas, kay pa bezwen chofe e moun pa janm bezwen mete manto. Sa ki pi rèd, gen de peyi kote lete fè pi fre pase livè yon lòt peyi. Gen de rejyon menm ki gen yon tanperatu mwayèn tout ane-a. Yon lè fè frè yon lòt lè fè cho, kom si kote sa yo pa gen kat sezon nan ane-a. Gen de kote, si yon moun ale, li p-ape jwenn ke an ete ou o prentan tout jaden kouvri ak bèl flè, paske pa gen jaden dutou. Se glas tou patou e tout tan. Donk genyen tout kalite tanperatu sou latè-a: gen peyi fredu, gen peyi chalè e gen peyi tanperatu mwayèn. Moun peyi frèt ki gen lajan al pase vakans yo nan peyi cho lè livè vini; moun peyi cho ki gen lajan tou al pase vakans yo nan peyi frèt lè lete vini.

Pi bon kote se peyi ki gen tanperatu mwayèn kote ki pa janm fè trò cho, ki pa janm fè trò fre, kote syèl la bleu tout tan, kote lanèj pa janm tonbe kote tout pye bwa toujou kouvri ak bèl fèy vèt, e tout jaden gen flè.

Kestion

24. Se tout kote sou tè-a tout jaden gen bèl flè o prentan?
25. Pou ki sa kote sa yo pa ka gen jaden?

26. Ki sa ou pito, peyi frèt ou peyi cho?
27. Ou renmen yon kote lè lanèj ap tonbe?
28. Lè ou an ivè, tanperatu-a monte ou byen li bese?
29. E lè yo chofe yon kay?
30. Lè tanperatu-a pa ro, konman li ye? - (ba)

V. GRAMMAR AND VOCABULARY NOTES

A. Pa...krik

1. Krik is an onomatopoeia for a 'slight noise', 'the slightest noise', 'one word'.
Pa...krik is the negative.

Si ou di krik m-ap sòti.	If you say (even) one word I'll leave.
Pèsonn pa di krik.	No one said a word.
M pa vle tande krik.	I don't want to hear a word.
Pòt la pa fè krik.	The door doesn't make the slightest noise.
Si kabann nan fè krik mwen p-ape ka dòmi.	If the bed makes the slightest noise, I won't be able to sleep.

2. The above examples show that, because of the nature of the word, the only verbs used with it are di 'to say', tande 'to hear', and fè 'to make'.

B. French Forms of the Names of the Seasons

1. The names of the seasons of the year, as we have seen, are prentan 'spring', ete 'summer', otòn 'autumn/fall', and ivè 'winter'.

However, they are generally used with the French noun marker (article) (Grammar Note L. 27, B) and become leprintan, lete, lotòn and livè.

le-prentan an	leprintan an	the spring
l-ete-a	lete-a	the summer
l-otòn nan	lotòn nan	the fall
l-ivè-a	livè-a	the winter

2. They retake their basic forms (prentan, ete, otòn, and ivè) when used with the persisting French prepositions "en" and "au" to mean 'in the', 'during'.

French	Creole	English
au printemps	o prentan	in spring/during the spring
en ete	an ete	in summer/during the summer
en automne	an otòn	in fall/during the fall en hiver	an ivè	in winter/during the winter

Note that prentan takes o instead of an because of the consonant. Note also that the French pronunciation liaisons have persisted (see Grammar Notes, L. 12, C-1 and 2).

written	spoken
an ete	an n-ete
an otòn	an n-otòn
an ivè	an n-ive

C. Talè vs. Talè-a

Talè	in a little while in the near future
Talè-a a little while ago
M-a manje talè.	I'll eat in a little while.
M-a vi-n taleu.	I'll come in a little while.
Li rive taleu-a.	He/She arrived a little while ago.

II. DIALOGUE

Carnival

Thomas is going downtown. He meets Albert, who is standing at a street corner, gazing at the passers-by.

Thomas: I need a companion to walk downtown with me.

Albert: Why don't you go alone?

Thomas: When you're alone, the road seems to be longer, and I like to have someone to chat with.

Albert: O.K., let's go. Today being carnival, no one should stay in one place.

Thomas: That's why I'm going downtown now. Last night I couldn't go to the masked ball, because I didn't have a disguise.

Albert: Ah, and how do you want to disguise yourself?

Thomas: I don't know yet. What would you suggest to me?

Albert: It depends on what you have available. If you want to disguise yourself as an old-time gentleman, you must find a frock coat, top hat, and stiff high collar.

Thomas: No, my friend, I'd prefer to disguise myself as a monkey.

Albert: Well, in that case, you are O.K. just as you are, no need to put anything on your face.

Thomas: Oh, no, Albert, my friend, I'm not that ugly.

Albert: You know that I'm kidding.

Thomas: Good. I'm dropping you here. I'll see you later at the ball at the Excelsior.

Albert: O.K., see you later.

Toma ap desann lavil. Li kontre Albè ki kanpe nan yon kafou ape gade moun k-ap pase.

Toma: M bezwen yon kanmarad pou desann lavil ak mwen.

Albè: Pou ki sa ou pa ale pou kont ou?

Toma: Lè ou pou kont ou, rout la parèt pi long, epi m renmen gen yon nèg avèk mwen pou bay odyans.

Albè: Bon, an-n ale. Jodi-a se madigra, nèg pa dwe ret an plas.

Toma: Se pou sa menm m-apral lavil koulye-a. Yè swa, m pa te kab al danse nan bal maske, paske mwen pa te gen degizman.

Albè: O, O! E kouman ou vle degize?

Toma: M pokonnen non. Ki sa ou ta konseye-m?

Albè: Sa depann de ki sa ou genyen. Si ou vle degize an gran moun lontan, fòk ou jwenn jakèt, konma avèk yon gro fokòl rèd.

Toma: Non, monchè, mwen ta pito degize an makak.

Albè: In ben alò, ou bon jan ou ye-a, san ou pa bezwen met anyen nan figi ou.

IV. LEKTU

Se mèt kò ki konnen kò.

Te gen yon lè, zannimo te gen yon rwa ki te trè intelijan e trè malen. Li te toujou ap di konseye li yo: "Se mèt kò ki konnen kò. Ou pa kapab konnen yon moun pi byen pase li-menm. Se li-menm sèl ki konn tèt li." Alò yon jou, pou li fè wè sa li t-ap di-a se laverite, li fè yon gro piknik, li invite tout zannimo: Bèf, Chwal, Kabrit, Kochon, Poul ak Makak. Li di yo: "Mezanmi, n-ap fè yon ti fêt jòdi-a. Nou pa bezwen byen abiye. Se pou nou tout vini jan nou kapab, san jèn, san protokòl. M ta vle nou tout vini pou nou fè yon jounen ansanm, pou nou manje, pou nou banboche, pou tout nèg kontan."

Jou fêt la rive. Se te yon dimanch. Yo fè fêt la anba yon gro pye bwa. Tout invite yo kòmanse ap vini gress an gress. Bèf vi-n rive avèk yon gro kokenn chenn poto sou tèt li pou montre ki jan li fò kouman li se bèt ki gen anpil fòs. Chwal vi-n dèyè, avèk yon sèl byen hanache. Li ponpe, li karakole, li kouri nan tout lakou-a pou yo ka wè li. Kabrit menm vini tou dousman ak yon ti fèy sou tèt li. Li pa nan gro bagay li pa gen anyen pou li montre. Kochon li-menm vini avèk yon moso kann nan bouch li. Li pronmennen nan tout lakou-a ap fè 'Hon' Hon' Hon' Hon', pou chèche yon ti bagay pou li manje. Konpè Makak menm vini byen degize. Li mete yon jakèt ak yon gro fokòl epi yon hotfòm pou fè tout moun kwè ke li serye. Li pa vle pèsonn rekonèt li. Donk tout moun rive ak yon bagay ki pou montre sa li ye, sa li pi renmen, sòf Makak.

Alò, lè tout moun fi-n sanble, rwa-a mande Bèf pou li prezide dine-a, kòm se li ki pi gro nèg. Tout moun chita bò tab la, yo manje, yo banboche, yo pale, anfen yo fè tout bagay. Men gen yon bagay rwa pat mete ditou sou tab la, se dlo. Li te fè espre; li te bay anpil manje san dlo pou tout moun te ka swaf. Lè Bèf ki te mèt dine-a wè sa, li di: "A, mezammi! Se yon move bagay rwa-a fè nou la-a. Nou pa kab kontinue manje anpil kon sa san nou pa bwè dlo, pa sa? Se trangle n-a trangle isit. Kilès moun ki vle leve al chèche dlo?" Tout moun rete chita pèsonn pa fè yon mouvman. Lè Bèf wè sa, li di: Bon. Ou konn sa ki genyen, pwiske tout moun ap manje, pèsonn pa vle leve al pran dlo, m deklare ke se invite ki pi lèd pami nou an ki pou al chèche dlo." Tout moun youn gade lòt yo pa di anyen. Alò, leu Konpè Makak ki te chita anba tout degizman ni wè pèsonn pa leve, li manyè jennen, li rete tann yon ti moman, epi li fè sa li wete konma li epi li di: "Bon, nou konn sa ki genyen, tonne kraze-m m pa prale." Si Makak fè sèman li pa prale, se paske li konnen ke se li ki te pi lèd pami yo, malgre tout bagay li te gen sou li yo.

V. AREA STUDIES

Film: Carnival in Haiti, with music and oral commentary.

VI. GRAMMAR AND CULTURAL NOTES

A. Reflexive Forms

1. Reflexive expressed by body terms

In Creole, the reflexive may be expressed by body terms such as tèt 'head', kò 'body', kadav 'corpse' 'body' (emphatic) after the verb and followed by the appropriate personal pronoun.

Wete kò ou.	Go away. (lit., Withdraw yourself.)
Li rale kò li.	He went away. (lit., He withdrew himself.)
Nèg la touye tèt li.	The man killed himself.
Moun sa yo renmen kadav yo.	Those people love themselves.
Vanse ka ou kote-m.	Come close to me. (lit., Advance yourself to my side.)

2. Reflexive preceded by pou

The body terms kò and tèt can also be preceded by pou and followed by the personal pronoun. The construction is as follows:

pou + ko + pers. pron. = by ...-self/alone pou + tèt + pers. pron. = for ...-self

Ou kab fè li pou ka ou.	You can do it by yourself.
Li pou ka li.	He is by himself./He's alone.
Mwen fè sa pou tèt mwen.	I did that for myself.

In the first two examples above, ka is interchangeable with kont.

Yo vini pou ka yo./Yo vini pou kont yo. They have come by themselves.

B. Personification of Animals

In Haitian folklore (as in old French fables) certain characters are represented by animals who play roles, live, speak, and behave like human beings.

The animals chosen have the general characteristics of the personages they represent. Most of the time they are still called by their animal names; these names, however, are promoted to proper noun status with a capital letter for this purpose.

In such a caricature of human society, a king is played by the lion, a strong guy is a bull, an ugly character is a monkey, the dog is a policeman or security guard, and so on. Their names in Creole are lyon, bèf, makak, bourik, chyen, etc., but in the tales they are not referred to as lyon an or bourik la. They become Lyon, Bèf, Makak, Bourik, and Chyen without the article that goes with the common noun. That personification avoids the absurd and the ridiculous, and helps one to remember that they are animals although the caricature is that of the human society.

C. Carnival in Haiti

Madigra is the greatest event of the year in Haiti. Any other holiday is dull by comparison, be it Christmas, New Year's Day, Easter, or even Independence Day.

What makes it of the utmost importance both socially and politically is that all classes are involved. For at least three days they come into intimate contact with each other in a bacchanal of music, dance and alcohol. All differences are forgotten. It is a wonder that anyone is still alive on the cold dawn of Ash Wednesday after three days and three nights of collective hysteria, the more so since the lower classes rehearse intensively every weekend for a month or more in advance, from the first weekend after New Year's.

Everyone is in the streets either as a participant or a spectator. Some go in groups through the streets all over the city, others form long processions with many glittering floats. Spectators by the thousands--more or less disguised--line both sides of the streets. There are processions or parades on each of the three days preceding Ash Wednesday, each day along a different route, so that even those who cannot leave their house may see something of the festivities.

A king and many queens are elected each year to reign during the pandemonium. Their Majesties, the Queens, will survive, but the poor king, who is a manmade mannequin, will be burned in effigy. He will symbolize the close of all festivities before midnight on Tuesday by going up in flames. This is again an occasion for intensive celebrating. People dance and sing around the flames and throw their masks and disguises into them.

If there is one thing that can unite the Haitian people, it is Madigras--'fat Tuesday'.

pèp, pèp; n.	people
rèn, n.	queen
sann, n.	ash

B. Koul ye-a koute, pa repete. M pral li tèks la deu fwa pou nou.

Madigra

An Ayiti, madigra se pi gro fêt nan ane-a. Se pa ti kras banbòch. Pandan twa jou sa yo ki anvan mèkredi dè sann, dimanch, lindi, ak madi, depi maten just aswè, tout moun deyò ap pran plezi yo. Madigra se non dènye jou-a, anvan mèkredi dè sann. Se non tout sezon fêt la tou, epi ankò, se kon sa yo rele chak moun ki maske pou fêt la; yo di se yon madigra. Sezon madigra-a, yo rele li kanaval tou. Donk, si se pou pale de fêt la, madigra vle di menm bagay ak kanaval.

Banbòch la kòmanse depi apeprè yon mwa anvan twa jou sa yo. Tou le samdi ak le dimanch gen bal maske tou patou, e lan peup la, bann sòti pou danse lan laru. Men, twa dènye jou yo, se yon bagay apa. Tout bann sanble ansanm chak apremidi vè deuzè, devan lakomu-n nan, pou yo mache youn dèyè lòt, nan ru Pòtoprens.

Gen yon rèn chak ane ki an tèt sou yon char. Gen anpil lòt char tou ke gro komèsan lavil yo fè pou magazen yo. Jou sa yo, tout moun devò nan laru. Sa ki degize yo mache ak bann yo dèyè char yo. Pi bèl group a pye yo se Indyen yo. Yo degize tankou Indyen Karayib lontan yo. Sa ki pa degize, al kanpe sou deu bò laru, pou gade madigra. Chak jou yo suiv yon lòt rout pou pèmèt tout moun wè yo. Kab genyen plis ke senkant mil moun kap chante, kap danse, kap rele. Konn gèn plis ke vin djaz kap jwe. Gen anpil moun ki pa menm rantre lakay yo, ni pou manje, ni pou dòmi pandan twa jou sa yo. Apre sa yo blije pran kabann pandan kèk jou, pou yo kab repoze yo, pou yo ka tann lòt madigra ane prochèn nan.

II. DIALOGUE

A Cockfight

Mr. MacDonald is in the Bicentenaire cockpit watching a cockfight. He sees the people who are fighting the cocks perform a group of ceremonies before they fight the cocks. He is asking for information.

Tidjo: Your face is not strange to me at all. Are you the American journalist who speaks Creole?

MacDonald: Yes, that's me. I've been in the country only two or three days, and yet everybody knows who I am.

Tidjo: It's because there are not many white men who speak Creole.

MacDonald: Well, tell me, why do the men lick the heads of the roosters before they fight them?

Tidjo: That's called magic. It's a strength they put on the heads and bodies of the cocks. According to them, the other cocks won't be able to peck them.

MacDonald: Fine, and what are they placing under their wings?

Tidjo: That's really nothing. Sometimes it's just cool water. That's called magic, too. It gives the cock strength to fly well. It makes him lighter.

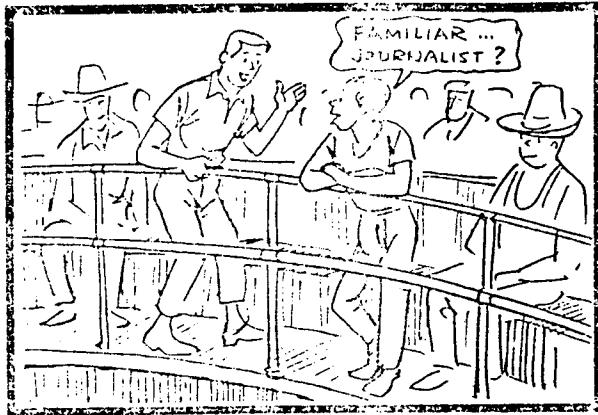

MacDonald: Why is that fellow passing the rooster between his legs?

Tidjo: That's magic, too. It's to have more of a bond between the animal and his owner, so the man gives the rooster all his strength so he fights and wins the battle.

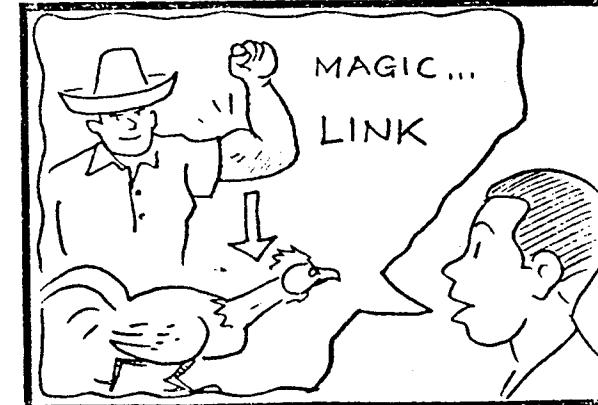

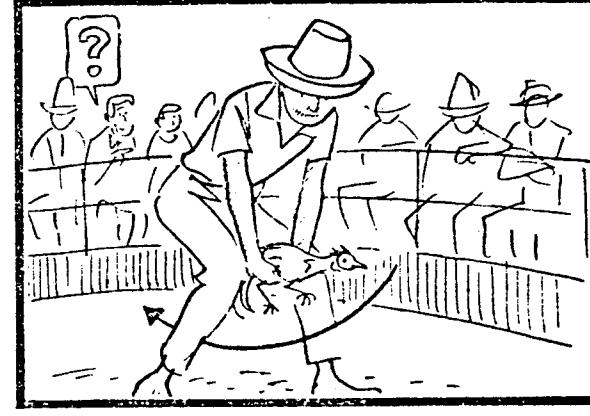

MacDonald: Thanks a lot for all this information. Here's something for a little drink.

Tidjo: Thanks very much. See you later.

CREOLE

Lesson 36

Yon batay kòk

Makdonal nan gagè Bisantnè ap gade batay kòk. Li wè moun k-ap bat kòk yo fè yon bann seremoni anvan yo bat kòk yo. L-ap mande ransèyman.

Tidjo: Figu-ou pa etranj pou mwen dutou. Ou se jounalis ameriken ki konn pale kreyòl la?

Makdonal: Wi, se mwen. M gen deu twa jou sèlman nan peyi-a, epi tout moun konnen ki moun mwen ye.

Tidjo: Se paske pa gen anpil blan ki pale kreyòl.

Makdonal: Bon, di mwen, pou ki sa msye yo niche tèt kòk yo anvan yo bat yo?

Tidjo: Sa rele senp. Se yon fòs yo mete nan tèt ak nan kò kòk yo. Daprè yo, lòt kòk p-ape ka beke yo.

Makdonal: Bon, e ki sa y-ap mete anba zèl yo-a?

Tidjo: Se pa anyen. Souvan se dlo fre. Se senp sa rele tou. Sa bay kòk la fòs pou li vole byen. Sa rann ni pi leje.

Makdonal: Pou ki sa nèg sa-a ap pase kòk la nan mitan janm ni?

Tidjo: Se senp ankò. Se pou genyen plus rapprochman ant bèt la ak mèt li, pou nèg la bay kòk la tout fòs li pou li goumen, pou genyen batay la.

Makdonal: Mèsi anpil pou tout ranseyman sa yo. Men pou pran yon ti gròg.

Tidjo: Mèsi anpil. N-a wè.

IV. LEKTU

Resous Naturèl d'Ayiti (1)

Ayiti pa yon peyi ki gen anpil resous naturèl. Pou di vre, te gen yon lè, lontan lontan, peyi-a te rich. Men gen lontan depi ke pa prèske rete anyen ankò. Lè Kristòf Kolon te debake nan peyi-a ak yon bann vagabon, te gen lò nan anpil rivyè, te gen mi-n lò, te gen mi-n kuiv. Tè-a te si tèlman rich ke indyen yo pa te bezwen travay li anpil pou yo te jwenn tout manje yo te vle. Tout mòn, tout plenn te kouvri ak pye bwa ki te kenbe dlo lapli. Sous te pèse nan tout mòn, e sa te fè anpil rivyè ki te chaje ak dlo.

Paske lavi te fasil, indyen an Ayiti yo pa te renmen goumen, ni travay. Pandan santan, espagnòl yo oblige indyen yo fouye mi-n, epi yo pote tout lò peyi-a ale. Indyen yo te bouke passe mizè. Fatig, tòtu, grangou ak maladi fi-n tue yo tout nan peyi-a. Espagnòl yo voye pran nèg an Afrik kòm esklav pou ranplase indyen yo. Apre panyol yo, se franse ki vini. Yo kontinue fè menm bagay la.

Lè esklav yo vi-n revolte an 1791, se pa kat goumen yo goumen pou yo chase franse yo. An 1804 yo vi-n indepandan, men yo pa gen anyen pou fè peyi-a mache, e pèsonn pa te vle montre yo ni prete yo anyen. Se tè-a sèlman ki pou ba yo manje, men esklav yo pa te konnen kouman pou travay tè-a. Yo koupe bwa pou yo fè jaden, yo koupe bwa pou yo bati kay, pou yo kwit manje, pou yo fè chabon. Yo koupe bwa pou tout bagay, nenpòt kòman e nenpòt ki bò. Tout peyi-a se mòn, e yo prèske pa gen pye bwa ankò. Pa gen rasi-n ki pou kenbe tè-a, e ki pou kenbe dlo lapli nan mòn yo. Abitan pa janm ranplase pye bwa yo koupe yo. Se pou sa, lè lapli tonbe an Ayiti, se yon lavalas ki pote tout bon tè-a nan lanmè. Alò, de jou an jou, tè-a vi-n pi pòv, li pa kab fè danre li te konn fè lontan yo ankò, li pa menm ka bay populasyon an manje. Travay latè vi-n difisil, paske se pi fò ròch ki rete nan tè-a. Lè ayisyen a suspann koupe bwa, tè-a va bay plus danre.

V. GRAMMAR NOTES

A. Se kat/Se pa kat

These expressions both mean 'it's a lot', 'it's not a few' and may be used with a noun to express a great number of something, or with a verb to express a great intensity of action. The constructions are as follows:

Se(pa) kat + noun + subject + verb
Se(pa) kat + verb + subject + repeated verb

We can compare these constructions with the Se pa ti kras constructions (Grammar Notes, L. 31, B and C). Se kat is not affirmative but rather expresses amazement with high pitch on se. Se pa kat is a formal negative form with the high pitch on pa. Se pa kat is the more common expression. Sometimes the number kat is replaced by deu (lit., 'two') or yon (lit., 'one') in the negative form, but only by deu in the affirmative form. The meaning remains the same.

Se pa kat/deu/yon moun mwen wè jodi-a.

Se kat/deu pyès li achte pou oto-a.

Se kat/deu manje ti-moun yo manje.

Se pa kat/deu/yon kouri nou te blije kouri yè swa.

I have seen a lot of people today.
(lit., It's not four/ two/ one person(s) I have seen today.)

It's a lot of parts he/she bought for the car.

The children ate a lot.

We were forced to run a lot last night.

B. De...a/de...an

Although these prepositions are similar in form, they are different in function: de...a means 'from...to', 'between...and'; de...an means 'from....to' to show the repetition, recurrence or progression of an action.

1. de...a indicates two points or two movements between which a state of being exists.

Gen 96 kilomèt de Pòtoprens à Sen Mak.

There are 96 kilometers from Port-au-Prince to Saint

De (mwa d-) jun a(mwa d-) septanm fè cho an Ayiti.

De lè madanm nan rive a lè li ale li pa rete pale.

Marc (between Port-au-Prince and Saint Marc).

From June to September it's hot in Haiti.

2. de...an indicates two points or two moments where something is or happens (not the space between them). Usually the same noun indicating the points or moments follows de and an because of the sameness of the action recurring or progressing.

Li mache de legliz an legliz pou al lapryè.

She goes from church to church
(in church after church) to pray.

Tonton an mande charite de pòt an pòt.

The old man goes begging from door to door.

Fanm nan mache de an kay pou vann chapo.

The woman goes from door to door to sell hats.

De jou an jou manje koute pi chè.

The price of food increases every day. (lit., From day to day foods cost more.)

D-ane an ane vil la ap vi-n pi gran.

The town is expanding year after year. (lit., From year to year the town is coming bigger.)

Now Contrast:

Gen demi mil de kay
mwen a kay ou.

There is half a mile from my house to your house. (distance between two particular points)

Fanm nan ap vann
chapo de kay an kay.

The woman is selling hats from house to house. (not between houses or between two particular ones, but at each house)

C. Future Tense in Main and Subordinate Clauses

Contrary to English usage, in Creole lè/kan 'when', and dè ke, osito(ke), sito(ke), kou 'as soon as' may be followed by the future when the main clause is in the future or imperative. However, even though this is often used, it's not mandatory.

Lè m(-a) rive m-a chèche wè ou.

When I arrive, I'll try to see you.

Kou n(-a) an vakans, nou va ale an Ayiti.

As soon as we are on vacation,
we'll go to Haiti.

Dè ke n(-a) rive an Ayiti, al vizite Sitadèl la.

As soon as you arrive in Haiti, go and visit the Citadel.

II. DIALOGUE

"With Too Much Intelligence, Stupidity Is Not Far"

MacDonald sees a taxi driver he met at Boutilliers at Mayi Gate Airport. He's not mistaken; it's really Charlie in front of him.

MacDonald: Charlie!

Driver: Mr. MacDonald, what are you doing here?

MacDonald: I'm going to leave.

Driver: I thought the plane was to leave at noon, and it's almost one o'clock.
How come you're still here?

MacDonald: What you say is true. The plane is late. It won't arrive before 2 p.m.

Driver: And what's it doing in the air like that?

MacDonald: It's not in the air. It hasn't left Puerto Rico yet.

Driver: Boy oh boy! And it'll arrive at 2! Those things sure go fast nowadays.

MacDonald: Oh! You haven't seen anything yet. There are supersonic planes in commercial use today. These fly faster than sound.

Driver: You mean to say that when I hear the noise coming, it's almost finished unloading?

MacDonald: Maybe not finished unloading, but when you hear the noise, it has already passed.

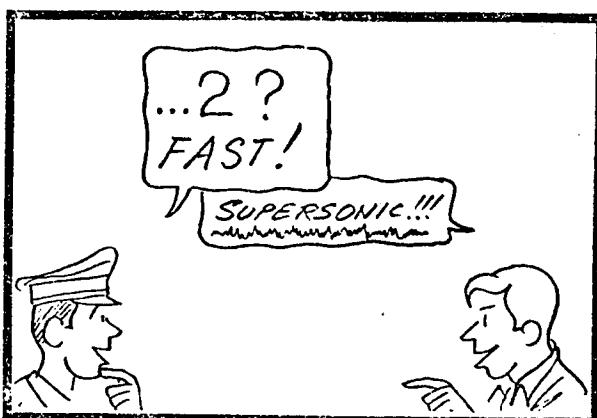

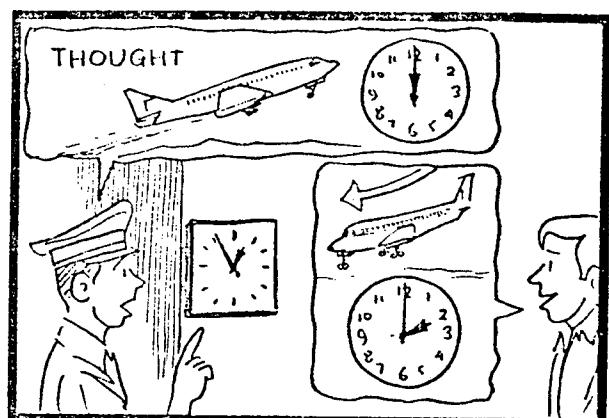

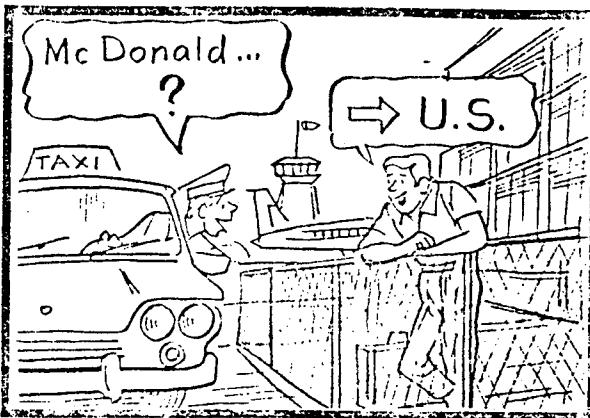

Driver: Wow! My friend, MacDonald, what do you bet, if planes keep going faster, one day you'll see travellers arrive where they are going before they depart.

MacDonald: Oh no, my friend. You'll never see anything like that. Be careful, my friend: "With too much intelligence, stupidity is not far."

Driver: Oh, oh! Hear the man! Well, one day you'll see what I'm telling you, listen: "All that you do not know is greater than you." Have a pleasant trip, MacDonald.

IV. LEKTU

Aviasion

Depi kèk tan, se tankou si lemond antie te prese rive yon kote, san li pa konnen ki kote li prale. Alò, li bezwen plis vitès pou fè tout bagay, e sa fè ke aviasion vi-n pran yon inpòtans konsiderab. Tout peyi ki pa vle rete dèyè, blije fè yon efò pou devlope aviasion yo. Kòm se yon bagay ki mande anpil lajan, ti peyi pa kab fè fo, e gro peyi toujou devan.

Aviasion sèvi pou anpil bagay, pou spò, pou plezi, pou transpò pasaje e transpò komèsial, pou patrouy, pou obsèvasyon meteorolojik, pou defann peyi-a, e pou goumen ak peyi etranje. Se poutèt tout bagay sa yo ke genyen aviasion spò, aviasion sivil, aviasion komèsial, e aviasion militè. Depi kèk ane, gen avyon supèsonik ki vole pi vit pase son. Genyen menm déjà ki nan sèvis pasaje. Motè a piston pa kab bay tout vitès sa-a. Se motè a reyakson ki fè avyon vole vit kon sa. Yo rele yo djèt, e yo rele yo avyon san elis tou.

Aviasion militè bezwen tout kalite aparèy, depi pi piti, jouk pi gro. Piti yo se avyon antrenman ki gen deu plas, youn pou elèv la, lòt la pou instruktè-a. Gen avyon de rekonesans ki fêt pou al rekonèt pozisyon ak mouvman lenmi. Epi gen avyon d-chas ki fêt pou bare e chase bonbadye enmi kap vi-n jete bonm sou peyi-a. Pi gro avyon yo menm, se transpò ak bonbadye. Avyon transpò yo fêt pou pote troup nenpòt ki bo, menm kamyon, tank ak kannon. Bonbadye gen tout grosè. Gen bonbadye leje, bonbadye mwayen ak bonbadye lou. Bonbadye lou yo se pi gro yo.

Yon lot aparèy ankò ki fè anpil sèvis nan aviasion se elikoptè. Elikoptè-a se yon avyon san zèl ak yon gro elis kap vire anlè tèt li. Li très util paske li kapab rete an plas anlè pou bay tan obsève, epi li pa bezwen teren, paske li kapab monte ou byen desann tou dwat, menm sou tèt yon kay.

Nan aviasion de spò, genyen yon ti avyon san motè yo rele planè. Se yon lòt avyon ki pou rale li monte, e ki lage li lè li rive anlè. Si yon bon pilòt jwenn bon van, li kab fè planè-a ret anlè lontan.

29. Eske paske li kab ret an plas sa pèmèt obsève pi byen?
30. Bonbadye ak elikoptè, kilès ki bezwen pi gro teren?

V. GRAMMAR NOTES

A. Tronpe: Reflexive or Directive

- When reflexive, tronpe means 'to be mistaken' ('to mistake oneself'), and the reflexive pronoun (-self) is used. When the subject is a noun, the corresponding reflexive pronoun will be used.

Mwen tronpe mwen	I am mistaken
Yo tronpe yo.	They are mistaken.
Ti fi-a tronpe li.	The girl is mistaken.

- When directive, tronpe means to 'fool', 'to deceive', 'to cheat', etc, and, of course, the subject is different from the object.

Chofè-a tronpe mwen.	The driver has fooled (cheated) me.
Ti-moun yo pa tronpe papa yo.	The children have not fooled (deceived) their father.
Ti-moun ni yo tronpe li.	His/her children have fooled (deceived) him/her.

In many instances when both subject and object are in the third person, only the context can tell whether tronpe is reflexive or directive.

Compare:

a. Ti fi-a tronpe li.	The girl is mistaken./ The girl has fooled him/her.
-----------------------	--

Him or her is another third person in the second context.

b. Chofè yo tronpe yo.	The/Their drivers are mistaken. The/Their drivers have fooled them.
-------------------------------	--

Them may be the passengers or the vehicles' owners.

B. Kouman fè

1. Kouman fè (lit., 'how done...') is an interrogative expression equivalent to the English 'How is it that ...?', 'How come...?'. Note that the subject may be placed either after kouman fè... or between kouman and fè.

Kouman fè ou la-a toujou?	How come you are still there?
Kouman ou fè la-a toujou?	How come you are still there?
Kouman fè madanm nan pa vini jodi-a?	How come the woman hasn't come today?
Kouman madanm nan fè pa vini jodi-a?	How come the woman hasn't come today?

2. When the subject is a noun phrase with a dependent or a relative clause, the insertion between kouman and fè is also possible.

Kouman fè tout chofè kamyon ki te pati yè yo pokò tounen?
Kouman tout chofè kamyon ki te pati yè yo fè pokò tounen?
How come all the truck drivers who left yesterday haven't come back yet?

3. The verb phrase gen having no subject may not be inserted between kouman and fè, but must follow the interrogative expression.

Kouman fè gen tout kantite moun sa yo isit jodi-a?
How come there are so many people here today?

C. Negatives

Unlike the English, it's possible in Creole to use more than one negative particle.

Compare:

Nou pa janm fè anyen .	You/We never did anything. (lit., We never did nothing .)
Nou pa janm wè pèsonn .	You/We never saw anyone. (lit., We never saw no one .)
Nou pa janm fè anyen pou pèsonn .	You/We never did anything for anyone. (lit., We never did nothing for no one .)

D. Se byen

1. When se byen is a complete statement or answer to a question, it means 'that's fine', 'that's all right', 'that's good', 'O.K.'.

Manman, m-ap soti.
Se byen.

Mother, I'm going out.
 O.K./That's all right.

2. When se byen only begins a longer clause, byen means 'exactly', 'truly', 'really', 'definitely'.

Se byen sa mwen t-ap di ou.

That's exactly what I was telling you.

Se byen Ti Chal ki te vini maten an.

That's really/definitely Ti Chal who came this morning.

3. The word to be emphasized must follow se byen immediately. Compare the transformation of the sentence Madanm nan ap vini demen:

Se byen demen madanm nan ap vini.

It's definitely tomorrow the woman is coming (not another day).

Se byen madanm nan k-ap vini demen.

It's really the woman who's coming tomorrow (not someone else).

Se byen vini madanm
 nan ap vini demen.

The woman is arriving (not leaving) tomorrow.

4. Clauses with se byen can be either affirmative or interrogative. Only the intonation and the pitch convey the meaning.

Se byen Ti Chal k-ap vi-n la-a.

It's truly Ti Chal who's coming there.

Se byen Ti Chal k-ap vi-n la-a?

Is that really Ti Chal who's coming there?

E. Position of adjectives

Generally, adjectives are placed after the noun in Creole. There are a few exceptions which should simply be memorized. Besides being short, they don't belong to a common definition. The following exceptions are placed before the noun:

anpil	several; many
bèl	beautiful; pretty
bon	good
chak	each
gro	big, large, stout
jèn/jènn	young
kèk	some
kokenn	big, large, stout
lòt	other, the other
move	bad
pluzyè	several; many tèl	such a
*ti	small; little
vye	old; bad

*Note: ti is a short form for piti which is placed after the noun, but mostly as predicate more than as an adjective.

When two of the above adjectives are connected by e 'and' to qualify the same noun, they both follow the noun.

Yon jèn ti fi.	A young girl
Yon bèl ti fi.	A beautiful girl.
Yon ti fi jeun e bèl .	A young and beautiful girl.

When one or more of the above adjectives is used with another one that normally follows the noun, they all keep their respective position.

Yon gro chyen parese .	A big lazy dog.
Yon bon ti chwal blan .	A good little white horse.

It is recommended that the student memorize the list above and pay attention to its position every time he learns a new adjective.

II. DIALOGUE

A Little Chat on Education and History

Mr. Jones, an American missionary, meets Mr. Jean-Baptiste, a history professor, at the Lycee National. Listen to part of their conversation.

J.B.: I hear them say a lot of good things about you, Pastor Jones. I congratulate you on the great amount of good you are doing for the peasants.

Jones: That's nothing, Professor Jean-Baptiste, they are a very good people.

J.B.: Yes, that's true, and the work you are doing is very necessary because the people need a lot of help.

Jones: And they are very grateful. They show me they have great consideration for me and that encourages me to do all I can for them.

J.B.: Particularly the population of the frontier zone. Their situation is not good at all, because the land is poor and it doesn't give them enough to live on.

Jones: It's because of this I chose that zone which needs more help than many other places.

J.B.: That class (peasants) has not prospered at all since colonial times. Perhaps it's because they don't always find missionaries like you.

Jones: It's not difficult to serve the people when you like them; and I like the history of the country too.

J.B.: Independence is not enough to remove a people from slavery. It is education that teaches them what they need to save themselves.

Jones: Is that why the freedmen were always ahead of the former slaves?

J.B.: Yes. It's because they already had education when Dessalines proclaimed the independence of the country.

Ti koze sou Edukasyon ak Istwa

M. Jones, misyonè ameriken an, kontre msye Janbatis, profesè istwa nan Lise Nasional. Koute yon pati nan konvèrsasyon yo.

Jan.: M tande yo di anpil byen sou ou Pastè Jones. Mwen felisite ou pou kantite byen ou ap fè pou peyizan yo.

Jones: Se pa anyen, profesè Janbatis, pèp la se yon trè bon pèp.

Jan.: Wi, se vre, e travay ou ap fè-a trè nesesè, pase pèp la bezwen anpil èd.

Jones: Epi yo trè rekonesan. Yo montre-m ke yo gen anpil konsiderasyon pou mwen, e sa ankouraje-m fè tou sa m kapab pou yo.

Jan.: Sutou populasyon nan zòn frontyè-a. Afè yo pa bon menm, pase tè-a chich, e li pa ba yo ase pou viv.

Jones: Se poutèt sa m te chwazi zòn sa-a ki bezwen plis èd pase anpil lòt kote.

Jan.: Klas sa-a pa prospere pyès depi sou tan lakoloni. Se petèt pase yo pa toujou jwenn de misyonè tankou ou.

Jones: Se pa difisil pou sèvi peup la lè ou renmen li, epi m renmen istwa peyi-a tou.

Jan.: Independans pa kont pou wete yon pèp nan esklavaj. Se edukasyon ki pou montre-1 sa li bezwen pou-1 sove tèt li.

Jones: Eske se sa ki fè afranchi yo te toujou devan ansyen esklav yo?

Jan.: Wi Se pase yo te deja gen educkasion lè Desali-n te deklare independans peyi-a.

IV. LEKTU

Tezen nan dlo (1)

Se te yon manman ki te genyen yon pitit fi ki rele Maria ak yon pitit gason ki rele Ti Jozèf. Yo te rete sou tèt mon nan. Chak jou manman an voye ti-moun yo ak youn nan ti restavèk yo al chèche dlo larivyè. Lè yo tounen sot nan dlo, tout moun pote dlo sal, sòf dlo pa Maria ki toujou pròp. Tou le jou se menm bagay la. Manman an pa ka konprann pou ki sa. Li di pitit gason-n nan se dwe pase li ret nan dezòd ak ti restavèk yo. Ti Jozèf di-l: "Non manman, m pa nan dezad. Men Maria gen yon abitud voye nou devan pou-l rete dèyè pou kont li. Fè kou m fè li pa vle m rete tann ni. M-a veye-l pou-m wè sa k-ap pase."

Lelandmen tout ti-moun yo al nan dlo. Kou yo fi-n plin kalbas yo, Maria di yo al devan. Y-ale vre. Men Ti Jozèf menm al kache dèyè yon pye bwa ap gade. Li we sè-l la vanse bò rivye-a epi-1 pran chante:

Tezen, Tezen, zin nan dlo.
Tezen, Tezen, zin nan dlo.
Tezen, bon zanmi mwen, zin.
Tezen, nan dlo, bon zanmi mwen, zin.

Ti Jozèf wè yon gro pwason ki parèt. Li louvri dlo-a ya! L-annik parèt dlo-a vi-n pròp. Pwason an pale ak ti fi-a. Lè yo fi-n pale kont pale yo, Maria pran dlo, li vire, epi pwason an disparèt nan rivye-a.

Kou ti gason an wè sè-a ap tounen, li kouri, li pase nan chemen koupe pou rive anvan ni. Li tèlman kouri pi fò dlo-a tonbe. Men, li gen tan rakonte manman an tou sa li wè. Lè manman an tande koze-a li di: "Se byen, m-a regle sa." Lè papa-a vini sot nan jaden, manman an rakonte li tout bagay. Papa-a di: "In ben, fò m-al konn ki pwason sa ki nan rivye-a ki fè dlo-a vi-n pròp. Jodi-a vandredi. Demen sanmdi. Bay Maria anpil komisyon pou l-al fè lavil demen. M pral koupe bannann pou ba-l vann nan maché tou." Menm lè-a tou li tounen nan jaden ni koupe bannann. Manman an rele Maria, li di-1: "Demen maten m-ap voye ou lavil. Ou a vann bannann pou papa ou, e ou a fè pluzyè lòt komisyon m pral ba ou fè pou mwen." Ti fi-a reponn: "Se byen manman."

Demen maten, Maria leve byen bonè, li sele bét li, li chaje bannann yo, epi li pati. Li pase bò rivye-a, li chante menm ti chante-a pou li rele Tezen, gro pwason ki zanmi-n nan. Lè Tezen parèt, li di Maria: "Ou pral lavil. Lè midi sonnen, ou a gade nan mouçhwa ou, ou a wè twa gout san. Ou a konnen se mwen ki mouri." Tezen rantre floup! nan rivye-a, l-ale.

V. GRAMMAR AND CULTURAL NOTES

A. Kont, adverb or noun can be used without or with a possessive.

- Without a possessive, kont is an adverb and means 'enough', 'sufficiently'

Mwen manje kont.

Li gen kont.

Sa kont.

I have eaten enough.

He (or) she has enough.

That's enough.

Note: When followed by a pronoun sa kont means 'that's enough for'.

Sa kont yo.

That's enough for them.

(They have had enough.)

Sa kont mwen.

I have enough (That's enough for me.)

- When followed by a possessive, kont is a bit stronger than 'enough' and means 'very much', 'full need', 'full capacity', 'full possibility', 'full share' of the possessive subject.

Yo gen kont yo.

They have all they need/
all they can bear.

Li manje kont li.

He/She ate (or) have eaten
all he/she could (eat).

Mwen tande kont mwen.

I have heard all I need to hear. (I don't want to hear more.)

- Sometimes the possessive is emphasized by insertion of kò 'body' between kont and the possessive.

N-a bwè kont kò nou.

We'll drink the most we can.

Yo te dòmi kont kò yo.

They slept more than enough
(all they could).

Ti nèg la lèd kont kò li.

The boy is as ugly as can be (his full share).

4. Kont may be followed by a repetition of the verb or the adjective in lieu of kò. Compare the following sentences with the preceding ones.

N-a bwè kont bwè nou.
 Yo te dòmi kont dòmi yo.
 Ti nèg la lèd kont lèd li.

We'll drink the most we can.
 They slept more than enough.
 The boy is ugly as can be.

5. When used in clauses where the action takes a direct object, kont precedes the direct object to mean 'very much', 'a great amount', 'a sufficient amount', 'quantity' or 'number', etc...

Nou tandé kont istwa nou.
 Makdonal manje kont duri ak roma li.

We have heard a great number of stories (a sufficient quantity).
 MacDonald has eaten a great amount of rice and lobster (all the rice and lobster he could eat).

B. Pyès

Like anyen 'nothing', pèsonn 'nobody' (Grammar Notes L. 22-G) and janm 'never' (Grammar Notes L. 23-F) pyès is another negative that must be doubled by pa 'no', 'not'.

1. When pyès negates the verb, the construction is as follows: subject + pa + verb + pyès It means 'not at all', 'not anything', 'none whatsoever'. In this construction, pyès functions as the object of the verb.

M pa tandé pyès

I don't hear at all./I don't hear anything.

2. When pyès negates the noun or the pronoun object the constructions are as follows:

subject + pa + verb + pyès + noun object.
 (or) subject + pa + verb + noun object + pyès.

It functions then as the negative adjective modifying the noun object or as an adverb modifying the verb in the case of the pronoun object.

M pa tandé p es bri.

I hear no noise whatsoever.
 I don't hear the slightest noise.

Madanm nan pa te wè pyès chapo sou tab la.

The woman saw no (didn't see any) hat whatsoever on the table.

M pa wè ou pyès depi lontan.

I haven't seen yon at all for a long time.

3. When pyès negates the noun subject the construction is as follows:

pyès + noun subject + pa + verb.

It means then 'no one', 'not one', 'no...at all' and functions as the negative adjective of the subject.

Pyès moun pa manje jodi-a.

No one has eaten today.

Pyès touris pa vini maten an.

No (not one) tourist has arrived this morning.

Note: In all above instances, plès may be replaced by kras with same meanings. However pyès is the more common expression.

M pa tande pyès. / M pa tande kras.

I don't hear at all.

C. Reduplication with kou

Kou is the Creole for the English adverb 'as', 'like'. When used after and before the same repeated adjective or verb, it means 'no matter how', 'no matter how much', 'no matter what'.

Travay kou li travay, li pa kab fè kont lajan.

No matter how much he works,
he can't make enough money.

Bon kou yo bon, m pa vle yo.

No matter how good they are,
I don't want them.

Fè kou nou fè, nou p-ap kab pati Jodi-a.

No matter what you/we do, you/we won't be able to leave today.

Chè kou-l chè, m-ap achte-l.

No matter how expensive it is, I'm buying it.

D. Annik

The best English equivalent for annik are the following adverbs, 'uniquely', 'simply', 'merely', 'just', 'only'. Annik must precede the verb in order to bear the restriction on the verb and not on the object.

Annik bay madanm nan lèt la, epi tounen.

Just give the letter to the woman and come back.

Pwason an annik parèt, dlo-a vi-n pròp.

The fish just came up and the water became clear.

Mwen annik gade-l,
epi l-kouri

I simply glanced at him and he ran away.

Annik rele non ni tou dousman l-a leve.

Merely call his name softly
and he will awaken.

E. The Water Problem

Water is indispensable to any and all living creatures: human beings, animals, and plants. But, to the peasant in Haiti, it's an element of the greatest importance, because its scarcity really makes it a matter of life or death. It has not always been so though. There was a time when rivers were flowing in all directions and springs spouting from all mountainsides. That was when the mountains were densely forested and every hill covered with bushes and trees. And because the country is all mountainous with very little flatlands, and since it's geographically situated in a zone of heavy tropical rains, the water held by the roots was forced to infiltrate in the ground and create immense water reservoirs which in turn would feed the springs and rivers.

But when the slaves freed themselves, proclaiming their independence and became the new Haitian peasants, they were left by themselves, uneducated, completely ignorant of self-government, hygiene, economy and what is now called ecology. The population swelled up, took to the mountains for shelter and food, and gradually and systematically deforested the whole country without ever replanting one tree for reforestation purposes. With less and less twining roots to hold it on the mountain slopes the topsoil also gradually has been washed away to the sea by the heavy tropical rains whose waters no longer infiltrate in the soil. The result is that the mountain water reservoirs have dried up and so the springs and the rivers, and what is left is an overpopulation living on scanty seasonal crops that depend on the rain.

Most of the few rivers that are still flowing have narrowed to thin trickles of water. But the people living along them or within walking distance, are blessed to have drinking water within reach, although not always clear or clean. It's necessary to say now that what is said to be "within walking distance" for a peasant, may be as distant as 4 or 5 hours each way along stony trails bordered by thorny bushes. The closer to the spring, the cleaner the water is. The farther down from the spring, the more polluted, because the population living upstream, including cattle, satisfy all their needs in the water, not necessarily out of sheer spite, but without the slightest thought of consideration for those living downstream. Water indeed is not pumped or carried to the cattle. They have to be walked every day to the river or to a pond - whatever is within reach - in which they enter to quench their thirst and do everything and it's not unusual to see peasants drinking or bathing a few yards below within sight. Those who have some understanding of the danger to health posed by using infected water for drinking or cooking, make it a rule, when they can, to send for water very early in the morning, around 4 a.m. before the herd of people and cattle begin washing or crossing on their way to the market.

When the stream flows a few feet below the land surface, the Haitian peasant doesn't know how to tap and bring it up to the surface for irrigation. Long level canals, rudimentary water wheels, or hand water pumps are not common sights in Haiti. As a matter of fact, they are altogether ignored, and it's not at all unusual that peasants living along or within reach of deep flowing streams cultivate their lands for seasonal crops that depend on rain. And those are the lucky ones. It cannot be understood or believed how the great number of the less fortunate who live on high plateaus manage with no spring or streams within reach. Each region presents a different characteristic or problem depending on the configuration of the land. Of course they all go on seasonal culture, but how do they get water for drinking and cooking? Here and there on plateaus where the rain waters don't have an easy flow, the concavities in the ground are filled up by the rains and hold the water, a few days or weeks for some, a few months for others. This water is polluted as soon as it touches the ground, and in less than 48 hours it swarms with microscopic life. One or two days later, it's living with grubs and worms. Within a few weeks after human and animals have been coming to it, the water has already turned greenish and stinking. They have to keep coming, but when it becomes really bad, they use a piece of cloth or the tail of their shirt as a rudimentary filter to fill up their jug. This note gives only an idea of the water problem confronted by the Haitian peasant. It's not within its scope to exhaust the problem.

There is no improvement in sight and there won't be any as long as the peasant is not properly educated. And it has to be the right education to teach him how to work and love the earth. It's true that more and more peasant children are receiving some education, but it's also true that they no longer want to till the earth and they migrate not only to the nearest town, but to the capital as soon as they know how to read and write. More so since the "good earth" can no longer yield enough to satisfy their new ambitions. And they quickly become the scum of the city societies.

The water problem is a tragic one that has inspired quite a few of the best novels for many Haitian writers.

F. Tire kont 'Story telling'

There was a time in Haiti, when all children and many adults used to gather in the evening to 'tell stories' before time to go to bed. That was going on in almost every other house in small or large groups, depending on whether few or many neighbors would get together for the occasion. The stories told depicted legendary characters, mostly from Haitian folklore, very colorful and very moral, and they always propose exemplary heroes to the imagination of the excited listeners. The good, the strong and the brave always win while the ugly, the weak, the dirty, the coward are always mocked. Since the repertory of those kont 'stories' is necessarily limited, they were retold and reheard time and again but it's always with unabated interest and excitement that the hypnotized audience would get to the 'happy ending' with a deep sigh of relief.

Because the kont were primarily meant for youngsters and naive adults, they had a certain educative character aiming at teaching good behavior, good ways and means in various situations, what to do and what not to do. To most children the lougarou 'werewolf' is a real creature who roams the country at night and takes away with him whoever ventures out after sunset. The lougarou may even be called for children who would not behave, would not want to go to bed, would cry without a good reason and what not. And that senseless dread of an imaginary creature would help the parents keep the children inside at night, make them obey and behave. But, because of the high rate of illiteracy, education never comes to open the eyes of most, and they drag along with them all through life a long string of superstitions that keep them down, prevent them from undertaking what might bring them some money, or make them stupidly bring their meagre earnings to the witchdoctor or the sorcerer. The writer of this note vividly remembers children who would rather consciously wet their bed instead of open their eyes in the dark and reach for the night can that was only three feet away. It was greatly inconvenient to spend the rest of the night in a bath that would quickly cool and there was a spanking coming on waking up the next morning. But all that was so much better than the eventuality of having to face up with the lougarou.

And because he lives in the imagination, the dreadful lougarou is everywhere, his presence betrayed by the shadow in the corner, the swaying of a shirt, dress or towel, the sinister barking of a dog in the neighborhood, the meowing of the cat on the roof. It must be added that kont are always told outdoors and necessarily in the dark, not purposefully though, but because most homes would have only one or two kerosene lamps that are taken from room to room where light is needed. So the darkness would set up the right atmosphere and condition for the listener to imagine anything.

If 'story telling' has had such a great importance in filling up the empty evenings of young and old, it's because not many other entertainments were accessible to a society with a 90~ illiteracy rate and a per capita income of $70.00 a year. Few can read, and of those few can buy a story book or the equivalent. But it costs nothing to listen to a wonderful repertory of stories which constitute the most magnificent blooming of the imagination. While listening to the stories, each listener becomes the hero of the tales and rejoices over the final victory as his very own.

Gradually, new amusements have replaced 'tale telling' in city societies and certain rural societies as well. The custom is slowly disappearing altogether and can be found only in remote areas of the back country. The language in which the kont were told had never been a written language and so, it's a rich and wonderful heritage that's being lost because the harshness of modern realities is not propitious to keep an oral tradition alive forever.

II. DIALOGUE

At the Bus Station

MacDonald is going to Limbe. He is at the bus station. He is talking with a bus driver. He is discussing the price and a place for him to sit. Listen to their discussion.

MacDonald: How much do you ask for Limbe?

Driver: The bus to Limbe is seven gourdes. That's what every passenger pays.

MacDonald: Will you take me for five gourdes?

Driver: Are you crazy, Mister? Is it for your handsome face that I have to take you for five gourdes? Everyone pays seven gourdes. If you can't pay, go on foot.

MacDonald: Wow! You confuse me. I don't understand.

Driver: White man, we don't bargain over bus fares.

MacDonald: I didn't know that.

Driver: If you want to see everything better, you must sit in front beside me. They are reserved seats that cost two dollars each.

MacDonald: So, apart from yourself, there are seats for two people in front.

Driver: Yes. If you want to take only one seat, it's ten gourdes you must pay. But, if you want to take both seats to be more comfortable, it's twenty gourdes.

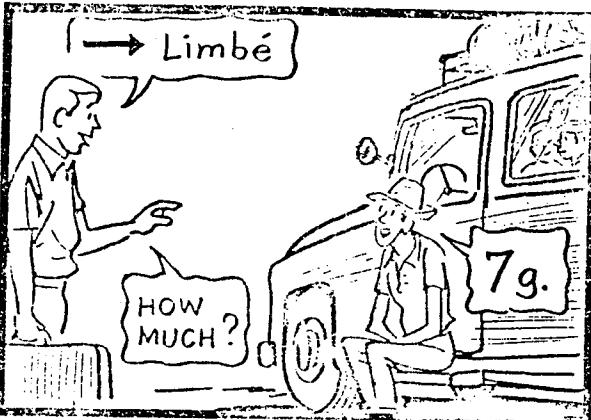

MacDonald: I would like to see everything and I need to take some pictures too. I'll pay the twenty gourdes.

Driver: Well then, get in. I'm leaving at a quarter to ten.

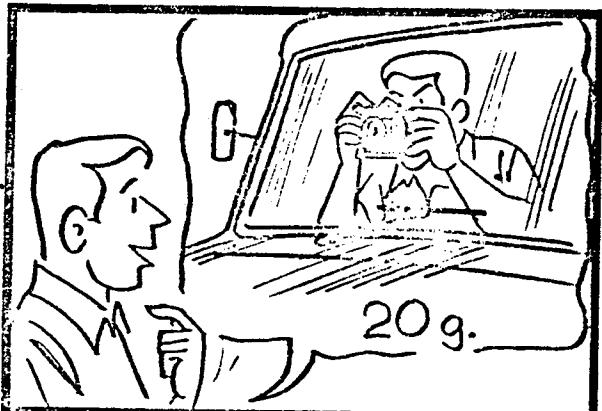

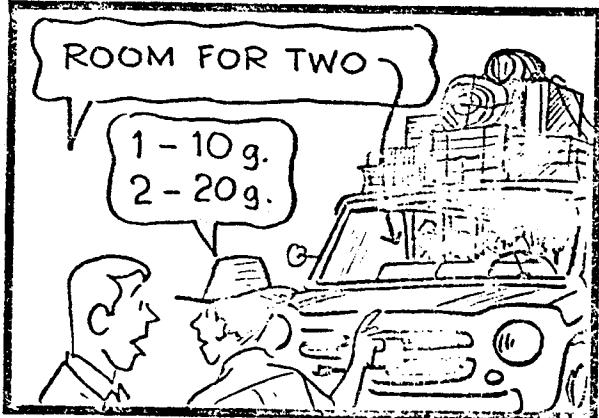

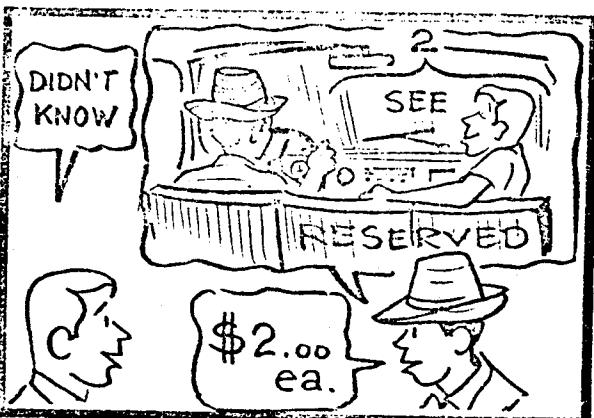

MacDonald: I'm going to buy cigarettes. Don't leave as long as I'm not back.

Driver: My friend, don't make me late.

IV. LEKTU

Tezen Nan Dlo (fen)

Lè Maria wè Tezen disparèt nan rivye-a, li vire, li pase sou yon ti pon pou travèse rivye-a, epi l-al lavil. Li prese pou-l yann bannann yo vit vit ak revandèz, epi fè komisyon manman ni yo pou-l ka tounen bone.

Yon ti moman apre Maria te pati pou al nan mache-a, solèy la leve. Papa-a leve Ti Jozèf a lòt ti-moun ki te ret ak li yo, epi li di yo: "Nou pral nan dlo". Lè yo rive bò larivyè-a, dlo-a te sal. Yo voye je, yo pa wè okinn pwason. Papa-a di pitit gason-n nan pou li chante menm chante Maria konn chante bò dlo-a. Ti Jozèf pran chante:

Tezen, Tezen, zin nan dlo.
Tezen, Tezen, zin nan dlo.
Tezen, bon zanmi mwen, zin.
Tezen nan dlo, bon zanmi mwen, zin.

Menm lè-a dlo-a louvri ya!, epi yon gro pwason parèt. Kou-l parèt, papa-a rale manchèt li li touye pwason an. Dlo-a te vi-n pròp. Tout ti-moun yo plin kalbas yo, papa-a chaje pwason an sou do li, epi yo rantre lakay. Manman an kwit pwason an. Li kite yon bèl plat manje pou ti fi-a. Tout moun manje vant deboutonnen.

Ti fi-a menm te fi-n vann bannann yo, li te pase kote kadonie-a pou pran soulye manman-n yo, men li pa-t fi-n fè tout komisyon yo. Lè li tandé midi sonnen nan legliz nan bouk la, li tankou li gen yon bagay ki pran ni. Li sonje sa Tezen te di li. Li gade mouchwa li, epi li wè twa gout san. Li tonbe krye, epi li pran kouri. Tout tan l-ap kouri l-ap krye, jouk li rive lakay li. Lè li rive, li suye je li, li bay papa li lajan bannann yo, epi li bay manman ni komisyon li te gen tan fè yo. Manman an di-l: "Men manje mwen kite pou ou." Li pran manje-a, li pase dèyè kay la ak li. Li pran yon ti chèz, li chita, epi li pran chante:

Tezen, Tezen, zin nan dlo.
Tezen, Tezen, zin nan dlo.
Tezen, bon zanmi mwen, zin.
Tezen nan dlo, bon zanmi mwen, zin.

Lè Ti Jozèf ki jouda tandé sè-l la ap chante chante li konn chante bò dlo-a, li pase dèyè kay la. Li wè sè-l la k-ap antre nan tè ak tout chèz la, a mezu l-ap chante. Li rele: "Manman! Manman! Kouri vi-n wè!" Manman an pa pran ka li. Lè li wè sa, li kouri al kote manman ni epi li di: "Manman! Manman! Men sè-m nan ap antre nan tè!" Manman an reponn ni: "Pe bouch ou la! Kote ou konn tandemoun antre nan tè?" Ti gason an pe bouch li, men li pè, li ale dèyè kay la ankò. Lè li wè sè-a rantre nan tè jus nan lestonmak, li pran kouri al jwenn papa li fwa sa-a: "Papa! Papa! Papa! Men sè-m ap antre nan tè. Li rive jus nan lestonmak." Papa-a di-l: "Ti inbesil, sa ou ap rakonte la-a? Kote ou konn wè sa? Al chita!" Ti gason an pa konn sa pou li fè ankò. Li ale vini, li vire tounen, li pase dèyè kay la ankò yon twazièm fwa. Li wè se pwent tèt Maria ki rete deyò. Li tèlman sezi, li pa fouti deplase. Li rele: "Papa! Manman! Papa! Manman! Men Maria ap fi-n antre nan tè. Se pwent tèt li sèlman ki parèt!" Lè yo tandem Ti Jozèf, yo kouri vi-n wè. Sezisman pran yo tou. Se yon ti très cheve Maria ki te parèt. Papa-a kenbe très cheve-a, epi li rale. Se très cheve-a sèlman ki vi-n jwenn ni. Maria fi-n disparèt nan tè nèt. Yo pa kab fè anyen pou li ankò. Li te trò ta.

V. GRAMMAR NOTES

A. Conjunctions of time

Where the embedded clause serves as complement of time to the main clause, one uses the following conjunctions of time.

1. lè, lè, lò 'when'

Li rive lakay li lè papa-l tuyé pwason an.

She arrived at her house when her father killed the fish.

2. pandan 'while'

Li rive lakay li pandan papa-l ap tuyé pwason an.

She arrived home while her father was killing the fish.

3. anvan, avan 'before'

Li rive lakay li anvan/ avan papa-l tuyé pwason an.

She arrived home before her father killed the fish.

4. apre 'after'

Li rive lakay li apre papa-l te fi-n tuyé pwason an.

She arrived home after her father had killed the fish.

5. jouk, jus 'until'

Li kouri jouk/jus li bouke.

She ran until she was tired out.

6. tan-k, tan ke 'as long as'

M pap vini tan-k/tan ke li rete isit.

I won't come as long as he stays here.

7. kou 'just when', 'at that particular time', 'as soon as'

Kou ou fè koub la ou a jwenn Linbe.

Just when you come out of the curve, you'll find Limbe.

B. Pran preceding another verb.

When pran precedes another verb--in a clause that is followed by a compleative action--it plays the role of an auxiliary and means 'to (suddenly) begin/start to'. This implies that much of the action is to be done.

Tifi-a pran chante.

The girl (suddenly) began to sing
(and sang, and sang, and sang).

Nèg la pran kouri.

The man (suddenly) began to run
(and kept running for sometime).

Medam yo pran rele.

The woman began to yak
(and didn't shut up for hours).

Remember that pran means 'to take' when followed by a noun.

Li pran liy la.

He takes the book.

Beware of identical verb and noun. The content or inflection of voice tells the difference.

Ti gason an pran manje (v.)

The boy begins to eat.

Ti gason an pran manje (n.)

The boy takes food.

C. Combination of two opposite action verbs.

Certain Creole expressions are made of two opposite action verbs, and express indeterminacy, irresolution, like a child who doesn't know what to do, but cannot stay still, or someone who's impatient of waiting, but can't decide whether to leave or wait longer. Generally the English would use two opposite adverbs with the same verb. However, in some instances two different verbs may be used.

ranje/deranje to range, to place/to disarrange, to misplace

maske/demaske

to mask, to disguise/to unmask, to show up

In front of a verb beginneng with a vowel, the prefix is dez

aprouve/dezaprouve

to approve/to disapprove

abiye/dezabiye

to dress/to undress

uni/dezuni

to unite/to disunite

Not all prefixes de express opposite action.

pase/depase	to pass/to overtake
koupe/dekoupe	to cut/to cut out, to cut up
pale/depale	to speak/to speak nonsense
twin/detounen	to return/to entice, to allure from

D. Pa, preposition 'by/per' versus pa, negative adverb 'not'

1. The preposition pa 'by/per' follows a verb while the negative adverb pa 'not' precedes the verb.

Li pa konprann.	He doesn't understand.
Yo pa kòmanse travay.	They have not begun to work.
Albè kòmanse pa brose dan-n.	Albert begins by brushing his teeth.
Li rive pa Pann Amerikann.	He arrived by Pan American.
Li pa vini pa Er Frans.	He didn't come by Air France.

2. The preposition pa is often given the French pronunciation 'par' by those who have a minimum of education.
3. See L. 13, Grammar Notes D, for the exception when the negative adverb pa follows the verb se.

E. The prefix re versus the adverb ankò.

To indicate repetition of action, the adverb ankò 'again' may be used with any and all verbs both in Creole and English. The prefix re can also be used for the same purpose but with only some verbs, also just like in English.

fè; fè ankò , refè	to do, to do again, to redo
plante; plante ankò , replante	to plant; to plant again , to replant
vann; vann ankò , revann	to sell; to sell again , to resell
di; di ankò , redi	to say; to say again , to resay

The student is advised to use re with only the verbs he already knows can take it. Otherwise, he should use ankò.

Some verbs, however, take the prefix re or use ankò in Creole but are translated by the opposite term in English.

pati; repati	to leave; to leave again
pale; repale	to speak; to speak again
ekri; ekri ankò	to write; to rewrite

Batay kòk

Depi lumanite egziste, gen moun ki pran plezi pou gade batay, men chak peyi gen jan batay ke li pito. Gen de kote, se batay moun ak moun yo renmen wè, tankou bòks O Zetazini. Gen lòt kote yo pito batay moun avèk bèt, tankou lan peyi pangnol kote se moun ki goumen ak toro. Dòt peyi menm pito wè batay bèt ak bèt kòm par ekzanp batay kòk an Ayiti, batay kangourou an Ostrali, ou byen batay chyen an Angletè. Men, se anba chal yo fè batay chyen ak chyen an Angletè. An Ayiti, yo rele kote yo fè batay kòk yo gagè.

Anpil moun al nan gagè pou plezi gade sèlman, men anpil lòt moun ale pou parye lajan sou yon kòk, pou yo wè si y-a genyen. Peyizan ayisyen bat kòk anpil tou patou an Ayiti. Gen de peyizan, se sa sèlman yo fè pou fè lajan pou viv. Yo okupe kòk pou yo bat nan gagè ou byen pou yo vann. Anpil moun ki bat kòk kwè ke gen senp ki kab fè kòk genyen. Yo konn peye yon bòkò anpil lajan pou fè yon maji pou kòk la. Lè kòk la pèdu batay la, yo kwè ke mèt lòt kòk la gen yon senp ki pi fò pase pa yo-a.

Chak dimanch tout gagè nan peyi-a chaje ak moun. Gen de fwa moun sòti byen lwen lè yo tande ke gen yon bon kòk k-ap bat yon kote. Lè kon sa yo pote anpil kòb pou yo parye. Yo kab genyen anpil tankou yo kab pèdu tout kòb yo tou yon sèl jou.
